U.S. House Votes Labor Bill Over Veto By Truman

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today vetoed the Taft-Hartley bill to curb labor unions in the United States and an aroused House of Representatives swiftly and overwhelmingly passed it over the veto.

That put it up to the Senate to clinch the decision on whether the bill is to become law over the President's disapproval. It will vote late today or possibly tomorrow.

The Senate is expected generally to override the veto, but both sides concede the vote will be close.

With a two-thirds margin needed to override a veto, the House vote was 331 to 83. That was 165 more "ayes" than necessary.

In his big battle with Congress over the issue, Mr. Truman called in a group of leading Democratic senators for a White House luncheon—presumably to talk over the veto. He also announced plans to go on the radio tonight and give the people directly his arguments against the bill. He will speak over MBS.

In a 5,500-word message to the House, Mr. Truman laid down four general and 32 specific points of opposition to the bill to check strikes and unions. He labelled it "unfair" and "unworkable." He said it would promote strikes. It violated principles "essential to our public welfare."

The House listened while a clerk droned through the long message. Then came the vote which smothered the veto under a deluge of both Republican and Democratic votes.

That action did this:

1. Propelled the labor issue directly into the 1948 political campaign.
2. Erased whatever vestiges may have remained of White House-Congress teamwork on domestic affairs.
3. Carried forward, Republican National Chairman, called the veto a "plain defiance of the will of the American people" and an "open bid for a fifth term for the new deal."

Says More Strikes Would Result

Mr. Truman summed up his displeasure of the labor bill in five terse sentences:

"The bill taken as a whole would reverse the basic direction of our national labor policy, inject the government into private economic affairs on an unprecedented scale and conflict with important principles of our democratic society."

"Its provisions would cause more strikes, not fewer."

"It would contribute neither to industrial peace nor to economic stability and progress."

"It would be a dangerous stride in the direction of a totally managed economy."

"It contains seeds of discord which would plague this nation for years to come."

The legislation was "completely contrary" to the United States' basic policy of "economic freedom," he said.

Here are the major provisions of the bill:

1. Let the government get court orders to block "national calamity" strikes, as in the coal or steel industries, during 90 days of mediation.
2. Forbid the closed shop, in which the employer can hire only union help.
3. Ban various kinds of special strikes and boycotts.
4. Permit court suits against unions that break contracts.
5. Deny collective bargaining

Ships Sailing From U.S. West Coast Under Truce

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ships sailed from the U.S. west coast ports today under an employer-union truce while the two unions without contracts and some which had renewed theirs for a year set their sights on a 5 per cent wage increase won in the east.

As a Labor Department trouble shooter renewed the negotiations with two C.I.O. unions, it became evident the eastern settlement would have growing effects on the west coast.

Vincent Malone, whose independent marine firemen recently signed an extension of contract for a year without wage changes, said trouble might be expected among his men unless they received the same increase as other unions.

Representatives of the C.I.O. Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, which had sought a 6 per cent wage hike, then settled for a year's extension minus wage changes, also indicated they planned to demand the 5 per cent increase.

The two C.I.O. unions still without contracts, the marine cooks and the radio operators, are expected to seek the same advances.

Drop Plans For New Pt. Ellice Bridge

Any idea of replacing Point Ellice Bridge in the near future is being dropped by the public works committee, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman, indicated today, as the elimination of streetcar traffic across the bridge will remove all potential danger, provided speed limits are maintained.

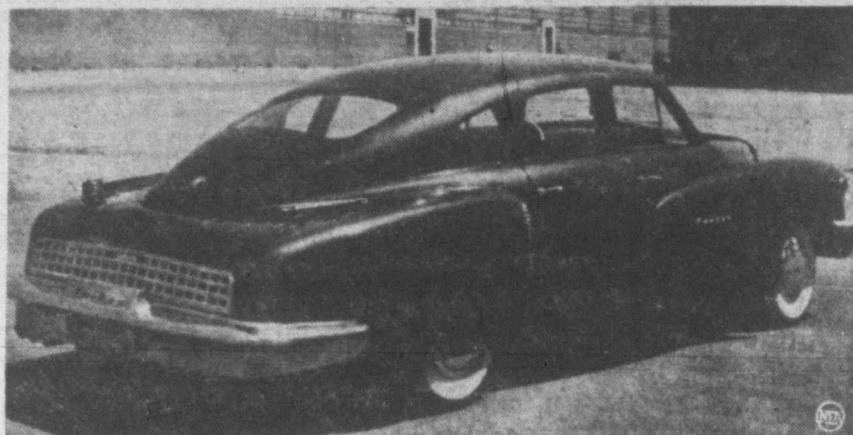

"There has been no further deterioration of the structure since J. R. Grant, consulting engineer, made his inspection and report, and we are keeping the bridge under careful scrutiny," he stated.

Ald. Hunter said that he had consulted all engineers, both of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, the city engineer and Mr. Grant, checking their reports, before coming to the decision. "All evidence indicates that maintenance of speed limits and the elimination of streetcar traffic will make the bridge quite safe for a considerable time," he declared. "There is no occasion for anyone to panic about potential danger."

B.C. Electric officials stated that the streetcars going across the bridge weigh more than 22 tons when loaded, while a 14-ton load limit was set by Mr. Grant as safe. The new buses which will replace the streetcars will be well within this limit, even when loaded, company officials said.

Revolutionary New Automobile 'Sneak Previewed'

Tucker Torpedo, newest automobile type in the U.S., is shown in yard of the Chicago plant. Planned for production in September, despite current controversy with the Security Exchange Commission over stock registration. The radically different medium-priced car, designed not to turn over no matter how driven, is five feet high, has engine in rear, with clutch, transmission and differential eliminated; is reported to have 800 fewer parts than conventional cars.

Nanaimo Strikers Go On Trial Thursday Morning

Trial of the union, union officials and participants in the Nanaimo laundry strike will begin Thursday morning next week following laying of charges yesterday by the provincial government under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

James Thomson, deputy minister of labor, said here today.

The charges were laid Thursday afternoon after Mr. Thomson had conferred with Frank S. Cunliffe, special prosecutor appointed by the province. There are three charges. The first is against the Laundry Workers' Union, Local No. 1 (C.C.L.), which authorized the strike, charging that it did so unlawfully. The second names, Dan Radford, regional C.C.L. organizer; Percy Lawson, bargaining agent; and Eula Patterson, local president, as representatives of the union authorizing the strike.

The third charge lists by name 27 laundry women employees who have participated in the strike. They are charged with unlawfully striking before a conciliation board had been appointed to endeavor to bring about an agreement.

The charges were not laid, as many expected, under the government supervised strike vote clause. Although the laundry strikers struck without holding a supervised vote, Mr. Cunliffe said the L.C.A. Act's strike vote provision only becomes effective after conciliation proceedings have been initiated and completed. In the present case, he said, conciliation procedures were not even started before the walkout and this was the basis of the charges.

The strike was called without warning June 9 in protest over the dismissal of two women employees. Each of the 27 employees involved faces a maximum penalty of $504 convicted. A maximum penalty of $125 a day for each day of the strike is faced by the union local as a unit, and the three union representatives face fines of $50 a day each.

Sixty-nine delegates, representing Vancouver Island and mainland organizations, who met in Nanaimo Thursday night, unanimously passed a resolution endorsing the strikers and promising to join in a mass picket demonstration.

PARADE TO ASSEMBLY
Hundreds of automobile workers marched on the National Assembly, demanding higher pay. Police dispersed the first group to reach the assembly building at the Place du Palais Bourbon. Twice more the police held back marchers from the Hispano Suiza plant, but finally a handful reached the palace.

Negotiations continued, meanwhile, between employers and representatives of the workers in about nine huge Paris department stores and a 10-cent store chain, all closed by the strikes of workers demanding higher pay. The country-wide strike of bank employees was in its second day after a government-union management conference Thursday night which agreed on a new salary scale but failed to satisfy an-hour speed limit was placed on the bridge for all vehicles, and trucks of more than 14-ton gross weight were prohibited from crossing the bridge.

Ald. Hunter also stressed that the northern end of the bridge, about which there has been considerable worry, is actually the most strongly reinforced as there are extra stringers to hold it.

At the time of its construction the B.C.E.R. assisted in the cost to provide special reinforcements to make it safe for streetcar travel on one side. However, the placing of the water main on the bridge may have offset this.

Charge Dropped

VANCOUVER (CP)—A charge of manslaughter against a 17-year-old schoolboy, following the death of 14-year-old David Sherlock May 25, has been dropped, Attorney-General Wismer advised Vancouver authorities today—the original charge was murder.

Rescue Flight Fails

SEATTLE (AP)—A 300-mile rescue flight by a P.B.Y. plane from Port Angeles to Bull Harbor, B.C., failed today, the U.S. Coast Guard reported, when a fishing vessel crew member died of a heart attack before the plane arrived to take him to a hospital.

Ottawa River Rises

OTTAWA (CP)—The upper Ottawa River having risen an additional four inches to the highest level in 50 years, several Pontiac County towns were faced today with virtual isolation and lines of communication were seriously strained all along the river.

Crowds March As French Cabinet Acts To Ease Crisis In Currency

PARIS (AP)—The cabinet agreed today on a stringent savings program designed to balance the national budget as continuing bank and department store strikers bid deeply into the national economy.

The franc was beginning to sag. The people's confidence in their money apparently was shaken by announcements indicating Premier Paul Ramadier had abandoned his efforts to freeze wages and force prices down by decree. Rising prices on French manufactured goods seemed inevitable.

The revenue bill, designed to add about 148,000,000,000 francs (about $1,166,666,000 at the official rate) to the government's revenue for the remainder of 1947, goes to the National Assembly, where approval is expected. The program means higher costs for bread, milk, farm products, railroad transport, tobacco, gasoline and telegraph and postal rates.

The government's proposed new tax program and other revenue measures were principal factors in the rising price of black market money. Now at 250 to the dollar, the franc is worth less than at any time since the government under Socialist Leon Blum checked price inflation.

The dollar at that time had risen to 360 francs on the black market. The official rate is 119, and the more or less normal black market rate, about 200.

The new tax program seeks to improve public finances by eliminating subsidies now paid on bread, milk and agricultural products, to the government-owned post, telephone and telegraph system and to the government-owned railway corporation. However, the program would raise the cost to the consumers.

Quick Action Planned As Four Municipalities Endorse Bus Franchise

7,000 Immigrants From Britain To Fly To Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—More than 7,000 persons will be flown to Ontario from the United Kingdom within a six-month period this year in what will be perhaps the first long-distance immigration movement of such size accomplished solely by air transport. The Ontario government has completed arrangements with Trans-Ocean Air Lines to fly the immigrants here at their own individual expense, beginning the end of July, Premier Drew announced Sunday night.

TO BREAK BOTTLENECK

The movement will break a shipping bottleneck which has frustrated importation from Britain of manpower for Ontario's basic industries such as farming, lumbering and mining, in which there is currently a labor shortage.

"Those coming to Ontario will be subject to the immigration requirements of the Dominion government and will be passed by its officials in London," said Premier Drew. "They will, however be chosen on a selective basis by our representatives at Ontario House (London) and in this way we will be able to make sure there is priority upon the basis of our immediate requirements in this province."

PLANNED IN DETAIL

On arrival, the immigrants will be directed to places where they can obtain employment and avoid areas where a more acute housing shortage exists. Planning Minister Dana Porter, whose department is responsible for arrangements in this province, has left for Ottawa to complete all necessary details with federal authorities.

The immigrants will not be fettered by any restrictive contracts, since in addition to paying their own fares they must, under Dominion immigration regulations, have sufficient money to care for themselves until they obtain employment.

Railroad Workers Renew Demands

CHICAGO (AP)—Five railroad unions, representing about 350,000 operating employees of U.S. railways today renewed demands for 44 changes in the so-called working rules, the issue that precipitated the country-wide railroad strike 13 months ago.

Earlier this week conferences started between carrier representatives and officers of 17 non-operating unions on demands for a 20 cents an hour wage increase for approximately 1,000,000 non-operating employees.

Greater Victoria's unified transportation system may be in operation by the early part of August it was learned today, as all four municipalities, acting on the definite mandate given by the ratepayers, moved to take the final steps for ratification of the agreement with the B.C. Electric Railway Company and the Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

The City Council will meet Monday, at which time the transportation by-law for the city will be given final reading. Saanich Council will meet Tuesday and Oak Bay Council Wednesday. Date for the next Esquimalt meeting has not been set, but it will probably be this week. Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee, which carried on the negotiations for the franchise for more than two years, said he would call a committee meeting immediately to speed the placing of the by-law before the Public Utilities Commission and the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Under the terms of the agreement, the unified system which will give single fare structure and universal transfers within the three and a half mile limit, must be made effective within 30 days after final ratification by the government authorities. This will be followed scrupulously, B.C. Electric officials, said today, and it should be possible for the ratification to be given by the cabinet early in July.

A. J. Patton, city solicitor, said there need be no delay in submitting the by-laws for registration by the four municipalities, and he anticipated no difficulty in obtaining the ratification as the ratepayers have approved the 20-year franchise by such an overwhelming majority.

The question of discontinuance of streetcar routes and services depends entirely upon delivery of the new bus equipment which is on order by the B.C. Electric, officials said today. No definite delivery date has been promised, but it is almost certain that all streetcars will be off Victoria Streets within a year, instead of waiting the full 18-month period allowed in the agreement.

Esquimalt Tracks First To Go

Only stretch of streetcar tracks which are ready for removal are from Head Street to the end of the Esquimalt line in that municipality. Until the council meets no decision will be made on their removal or the fixing of the road, towards which the B.C.E.R. will pay $35,000 to the municipality.

The Esquimalt line will probably be the first one to be completely converted to bus service, it was stated, and others will follow as the buses are delivered. Full responsibility for removal of tracks and the consequent repair and resurfacing of the roads depends on the municipalities.

Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the city public works committee, said that plans for city roads would be made as soon as the situation regarding the payment of the $290,000 from the B.C.E.R. has been clarified. The estimate of how much the 3 per cent of gross profits amounts to, and what aid can be expected from the provincial government towards the maintenance of arterial roads will also influence the extent of the plans, Ald. Hunter indicated.

He doubted if any actual work would be started on the city roads this year, pointing out that the whole program would probably mean another money by-law to the ratepayers. He gave assurance, however, that there would be no delay in laying the plans and getting estimates of costs.

There are no plans for the erection of a bus depot within the city, although there has been talk of a modern bus garage and servicing depot on the Garbally Road property recently purchased by the B.C.E.R. from the city. It was explained by a company official that operating a strictly urban service, with through buses it is not necessary to have a depot, such as is needed for long-haul bus companies. For the present the buses will be garaged and serviced at the car barns at Rock Bay.

40 Streetcars Soon To Be Up For Sale

Discarded streetcars of the B.C. Electric Railway will be offered for sale, it was announced by company officials.

There are about 40 cars available, and already 10 applications for purchase have been received. The majority of these plan to make hot dog stands, or roadside diners out of the cars.

The large size cars will sell for $150 and the smaller ones for $100.

Douglas-Humboldt Corner, Subject Of Controversy, Sold

The controversial corner property at the northwest corner of Douglas and Humboldt Streets has been purchased by outside interests from Cabell and May Ltd. for an unstated sum, it was learned today.

This was the property on which McColl-Frontenac Oil Company sought to place a garage and parking facilities for residents of nearby hotels and apartment blocks, but the City Council, acting on the advice of the Town Planning Commission, refused to pass the necessary rezoning by-law.

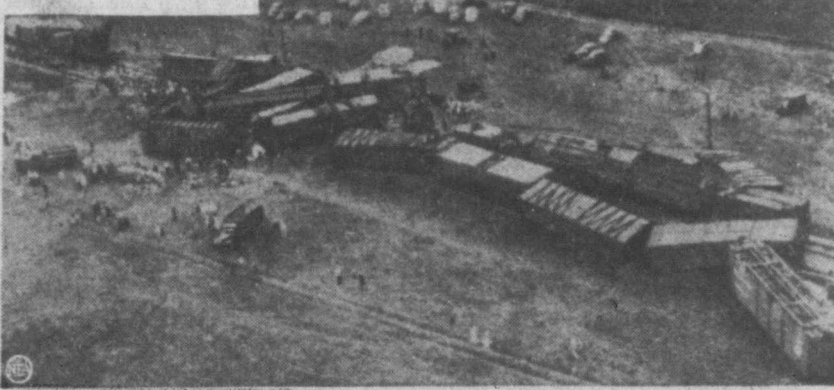

The agents who handled the sale of the property, B.C. Land and Investment Agency Ltd., have declined to reveal the price paid for the land, or who the purchasers are, though it is rumored to be a Vancouver firm.

At the present time the property will be held for speculative purposes, pending a drop in building costs when a hotel or apartment building may be erected there. It is considered unlikely that any building will be started for at least two years. In the meantime it will probably continue to be used as a parking space and storage for buses or cars.

One Of Largest Votes Cast To Approve Transit By-Law

By an overwhelming majority, the ratepayers of the four municipalities of Greater Victoria endorsed the 20-year franchise for the B.C. Electric Railway Co. and Vancouver Island Coach Lines to institute a unified transportation system in the area.

The vote was 11,847 in favor of the by-law in the four municipalities, with only 1,225 opposing. On the vote, which was one of the largest on record for by-laws, only 7,278 "yes" votes were required to pass the by-law.

Details of the vote in the four municipalities are as follows:

Elect Bert Thomas Reeve Of Esquimalt; Speirs To Council

It is expected that A. I. (Bert) Thomas, Esquimalt businessman elected reeve of Esquimalt Thursday with a total of 722 votes, will be sworn in office this afternoon or Saturday.

Only other candidate for the reeveship left vacant by the death of Col. J. Read was J. P. A. Christensen, who served on the council for eight years and who resigned his seat to contest the reeveship. He polled 429 votes.

Winning the one seat vacant on the council was Alexander Speirs with 445 votes. James

BERT THOMAS

Elrick polled 408 votes and E. M. Briggs, 292.

The municipal hall was crowded last night as many residents cast their ballots just before the closing of the polls. The total of 1,157 votes cast was considered a heavy one for the municipality.

"It broke the record set at the last general elections," said W. J. Cave, returning officer for Esquimalt. Last December's total vote was 1,053.

Mr. Cave reported that no Orientals or Asiatics cast their ballots in Esquimalt.

On the Kinver Drainage System By-law 98 votes were cast in favor, 16 opposing. There were two spoiled ballots. It was the first local improvement by-law placed before the ratepayers of Esquimalt. Cost of the drainage system is estimated at $8,500.

U.S. Jet Sets Record

MUROC, Calif. (AP)—Flashing over a short course at speeds sometimes above 632 miles an hour, a Lockheed jet P-80—the United States' answer to British air speed supremacy—set a world record of 633.8 miles an hour Thursday.

Simultaneously, Charles H. (Slick) Goodlin, Pennsylvanian who has been preparing for a record assault in the XS-1 over the same course announced he was quitting as test pilot after a disagreement with Bell Aircraft Co., the craft's manufacturer.

Above first flight picture of the new recordbreaker shows the "Shooting Star" jet-propelled fighter plane as it cruises over Burbank, Calif. Dive flaps extended below fuselage slow it down to the speed of the accompanying camera plane. Its improvements over its predecessor, the P-80A, include faster firing guns, more resistance to battle damage, and a pilot ejector seat.

Marian Congress Pontifical Mass In Ottawa Attended By 65,000

OTTAWA (CP)—In an impressive finale to a day of religious pomp and splendor at the Marian Congress—a day marked by a special message from Pope Pius XII and activities centered around James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto—an estimated 65,000 persons turned out early today for a pontifical midnight mass at Lansdowne Park.

Those in the huge throng—heedless of the threat of rain—chanted responses to the mass celebrated by Msgr. Ildebrando Antoniutti, Apostolic Delegate to Canada. Thousands took communion.

The congress unfolded before Ottawa citizens and the tens of thousands of Roman Catholic faithful came to offer prayers for lasting peace to the Blessed Virgin Mary.

There was a spiritual yet festive air about the city as possibly 100,000 beribboned visitors thronged its streets, finding it hard themselves to grasp the gigantic scope of this pilgrimage for peace.

But the scope of the spectacle was rapidly becoming apparent in the presence of nine princes of the church, in the rushing business in city shops and in the chanting of Latin masses and the kneeling throngs in the cathedral and at the park Ottawa previously thought of only as a home for football clubs.

In his radio message from the Vatican City Thursday the Pope spoke first in French for 20 minutes and then in English for eight minutes, but radio reception was marred by static. The Pontiff called on Canadians in his French address to "guard jealously your magnificent traditions." His English address was devoted mainly to praise of the

Vice-President Uses Track Motor Car On Inspection Tour

Over 2,000 miles by track motor car—an automobile on rails—will be the record of William Manson, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, when he completes his present inspection tour of the company's western railroad lines.

Arriving in Vancouver last night, Mr. Manson had traveled 1,049 miles by track motor car between Winnipeg and the West Coast. He will do 1,013 miles on his way back to the prairie capital, after visiting Victoria, where he arrived this morning, and Vancouver next week.

A track motor car is an automobile equipped with flanged steel wheels for operation on railway tracks. Like a regular train it is complete with bell, whistle and red and green lights, and operates on official train orders, arriving and leaving stations on schedule. The steering wheel of the automobile becomes the brake, and two white flags flying from the front bumpers signify that the car is operating as an "extra train."

Longest single stretch of Mr. Manson's westbound journey by track motor was 344 miles between Weyburn, Sask., and Lethbridge, Alta.

On the way west his automobile traveled through such stretches as the famous Spiral Tunnels east of Field in the Can-

Inquest On Mystery Of Drowned Bride May Be Protracted

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont. (CP)—Possibility was seen today that the sensation-packed inquest into the strange drowning of pretty Christina Kettlewell would continue until Saturday. But no one could hazard a guess as to the jury's verdict.

The Thursday afternoon and evening sittings saw Jack Kettlewell, husband of the dead girl, under hours of questioning by C. P. Hope, K.C., of the Ontario Attorney-General's department. That questioning, and other testimony, brought out these points:

1. Three letters hinting at suicide were written by the girl.

2. Kettlewell told the court the girl had twice tried to commit suicide, on the second occasion attempting to take him to death with her by means of a poisoned meal.

3. The autopsy showed the body of Christina Kettlewell contained traces of a drug.

4. A statement signed by Kettlewell told of unnatural relations between himself and Ronald Barrie, his friend of several years' standing and the best man at the wedding eight days before the girl's body was found in the Severn River.

Jack Kettlewell and Christina Mogan were married May 12. They went to the "honeymoon cottage" which was arranged for by Barrie, and on May 20 the body of the girl was found in shallow water at the edge of the Severn River, near Orillia.

Barrie said previously that he had found Kettlewell in a dazed condition near the cottage, and Kettlewell spent a day in hospital, but said he could remember nothing of what happened.

These facts were elaborated in Thursday's testimony. A boat-house owner, Melville Sweet, the man who discovered the pyjama-clad body of the bride near the cottage, said the girl and the two men had visited the cottage May 3 and that it was Barrie who arranged for a return visit by the couple after their marriage, at Barrie's expense.

Railway Unification Would Save $100,000,000 A Year—McGeer

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's freight rates "champion"—Senator G. G. McGeer—and some of her primary and secondary industries had new objections on the record today against railway rate increases.

Before the Board of Transport Commissioners Thursday and Thursday night they registered stiff opposition to the proposal of the railways for 30-per-cent increases as the board continued regional hearings here in the rate inquiry.

Aggressive and eloquent as he spoke for his province and this city of which he is mayor, Senator McGeer slammed the railways around for more than four hours as he denounced their proposal, declared "mountain differential" rates unjustifiable and called for the extension to British Columbia of the benefits of the Maritime Freight Rates Act.

SPEAKS FOR ORCHARDISTS

Almost as belligerent was T. G. Norris, counsel for the fruit and vegetable industries of the B.C. interior, who claimed the requested increases would give the railways "dictatorial" powers to manipulate the economy of the country.

Senator McGeer, armed with maps and judgments in railway cases in which he participated years ago, belabored the railways for their financial structures, their directorial set-ups and their operations.

The two transcontinental lines, he said, could save $100,000,000 a year by unification of their services. This compared with the $87,000,000 a year they hope to obtain through 30-per-cent increases.

"Nothing," he said, "in the way of improved financial condition is obtainable through rate increases that could not be available if they would substitute a spirit of co-operation for blind, reckless, ruthless and indifferent competition."

Mr. Norris claimed the railways, if given the power to hoist rates by 30 per cent, would be able to adjust charges within that ceiling that they would force any industry out of business or make it move from one part of the country to another.

The railways, he said, would be "put in control of the national economy of Canada."

Mr. Norris represented the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, the B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. and the B.C. Interior Vegetable Marketing Board. Others who protested Thursday against the proposed rate rise were the Western Canada Producers' Association, the province's Poultry Producers' Association and the British Columbia Division of the metal trades section of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Okanagan May Lose British Apple Mart

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—The last hope of any export of apples to the United Kingdom during the coming season flickered out here today following telephone conversations between officials of the British Columbia Tree Fruits Ltd. and A. K. Loyd, president and general manager of the organization, who has just reached Ottawa, en route home following several weeks spent in Britain.

The growers' sales agency now will have to operate on the assumption that the large apple crop in sight will have to be marketed without assistance of U.K. purchases. The grave problem created by the loss of a market which last year consumed 2,500,000 boxes of British Columbia apples will call for every effort by orchardists as well as the sales staff of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

Nova Scotia last year shipped more apples to the U.K. than did British Columbia, and now will be without its British export. Thus in addition to finding a market for two and one-half million boxes, B.C. will be in direct competition with an increased volume of Nova Scotia apples on the domestic and export markets.

In addition the two Canadian provinces will find themselves fighting for world markets in competition with United States and South African apples. The latter country is particularly hard hit by Britain's decision as it depended almost entirely upon that country as a market for its deciduous fruit. The fact that Britain will purchase no deciduous fruit from South Africa, even though that country is in the "sterling block," indicates the critical position of British finances.

Locally plans are being made to grow sizes suitable for the domestic market.

DECISIVE INSTRUCTIONS

THE OVERWHELMING ENDORSEMENT given yesterday by the ratepayers of Greater Victoria to the plan for a modern, integrated transportation system for this community leaves no room for doubt over the wishes of the people on this question. The eight-to-one decision registered at the polls by a record number of voters for this type of by-law at this season is a clear call for prompt action by the city, municipalities, the B.C. Electric Railway Company and the Vancouver Island Coach Lines to implement the program for which they sought support. The assurance of Mr. W. C. Main, warring, speaking for the transit interests, that no time will be lost in effecting the necessary changes will be accepted, and users of the public carrier service will look for an immediate start on improvements.

Of no less significance than the decisiveness with which the by-law was passed was the interest and civic consciousness shown by voters in the important issues placed before them. This development is a particularly welcome change from the apathy displayed recently when 14 per cent of those entitled to mark ballots defeated the plan to sell the old City Hall and build a new one. By rough computation, approximately 44 per cent exercised the franchise in the city itself yesterday. While that is still below half the number who could have registered their decision, it is regarded as good for the summer time, when many were out of town and no provision was made for an absentee vote. This encouraging display of acceptance of citizenship responsibilities in Victoria, moreover, reflected a similar attitude in adjoining municipalities.

The decision on the transportation franchise does not, of course, give any index of the outcome of city voting on the school building by-law. Nevertheless, it would appear to imply that a very representative group has passed judgment on that issue in Victoria; and if similar interest is shown next week in the adjoining municipalities, the verdict should rest solidly on the wishes of a substantial body of the taxpayers.

Certainly the will for improvements was demonstrated clearly in Esquimalt and in a section of Saanich where drainage and street lighting proposals were approved decisively. In Esquimalt, moreover, the voters left no doubt over their choice for a new reeve and a new councillor, as Mr. A. I. "Bert" Thomas and Mr. Alexander Spiers were elected to the respective offices.

In general, the volume of voting was encouraging. It is to be hoped that this is a clear indication of revived appreciation by the citizens of their duties under a democratic system, and a realization by them of the necessity of giving personal attention to matters which concern them directly.

AMERICAN DOLLARS NEEDED

MUCH HAS BEEN SAID AND WRITTEN in recent weeks about the threat of an economic "recession" in the northern part of the Western Hemisphere. Nothing particularly encouraging has come out of this discussion. Behind the curtain of fog which it has produced, however, is a problem that every intelligent Canadian should understand. The truth of the matter is, this country's supply of American dollars is running out, and the Dominion Government is obviously worried because it requires more United States currency to buy the products of our friendly neighbor's industrial establishments—products that are necessary for the revival of Canadian industry to a point at which the supply of many basic durable commodities will be able to satisfy the demand.

Finance Minister Abbott, of course, knows that in the first three months of this year Canada imported from the United States goods to the value of approximately $230,000,000 in excess of the value of the goods, this country sold to her neighbor. One does not need to be a professional economist to understand the financial implications of a trading exchange which is as one-sided as this adverse balance reveals. Nothing in the citation of these official figures, however, implies that the problem confronting the treasury in Ottawa is an insoluble one. For example, during the summer and autumn months of this year it may be assumed that American dollars to the extent of anywhere between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 will be left in this country by those of our friends south of the 49th parallel who desire to spend their surplus cash in Canada. Against this, by the same token, and regardless of the new edict of the Foreign Exchange Control Board, must be set the expenditures of Canadians in the United States. To what extent the net balance of this exchange will benefit this Dominion is highly problematical. It will be well, nevertheless, to take with a certain amount of reservation the optimistic forecasts of travel promotion agencies.

Students of trade statistics before the outbreak of the Second World War realize that Canada was selling to the United Kingdom approximately three dollars' worth of goods in return for about one dollar's worth the Dominion imported. The balance of this exchange was used to make up the difference between the value of Canadian imports from and exports to the United States. Not only is this an economic condition which has now ceased to exist, and which is unlikely to occur again, but it is also true that the countries of continental Europe with which Canada enjoyed a lucrative trading arrangement prior to 1939 are now buying goods from this country on a line of credit which the layman can only interpret as an investment by Canada in Canadian employment.

In other words, unless the wealthiest nation in the world, namely, the United States, is authorized by Congress to conform to a policy of much freer trade among all nations by a substantial reduction of tariff barriers, international business would seem headed for chaos. Thus it may well be argued that if the trading relationship between Canada and the United States—the two creditor nations that have emerged from the Second World War—can be adjusted either by an arrangement between Ottawa and Washington, or in the wider field of the management of foreign exchange, a long step toward the restitution of economic equilibrium will have been taken. In order, therefore, to complete our reconversion from a wartime to a peacetime economy, and to provide the Canadian people with the numerous basic durable goods on which they have the money to spend, it will be necessary for the Ottawa and Washington governments to come to some arrangement. This would be in the mutual interests of the two neighboring peoples as well as in the general interests of world recovery.

SPECULATIVE WAR

THE CURRENT WILD SPECULATION upon the future of the new "secret weapon" which British scientists are rumored to have developed is likely to do little good and may possibly result in considerable harm. For the suggestion that British "global strategy" will henceforth be based on the threat or use of radio-active clouds, bacteriological bombs, death rays or other similar inventions, is a negation of all those ideals for which the people of Britain and the Commonwealth are currently striving. The threat of frightful means of human destruction has no place in the portfolios of the men who daily are gathering in the various agencies of the United Nations Organization to try to work out a policy of co-operation and mutual understanding whereby the nations of the earth can live together in peace and well-being.

There is, of course, a human fascination for achieving death and destruction, and no doubt laboratories all over the world are delving into scientific secrets whose application would result in the lethal commodities we have named. We can well imagine the anxiety which would result were Russia to announce the discovery of some such device, and we should consequently understand that such speculative "news" as we now are receiving from various unnamed "sources" regarding British discoveries will cause equal consternation in Russia and other countries that we have been assuring of our peaceful intentions.

Many of the modern weapons of war are the outgrowths, sometimes accidental, of purely peacetime, scientific research. We cannot and must not stifle such studies merely on the grounds that they may result in some new death-dealing technique. To do so would be to write off material progress for mankind. But the current reports, whether true or not, point up very strongly the need for United Nations action on the whole problem of arms and munitions, so that science may move forward for the benefit of mankind, under the impartial watch of a global organization which will ensure the safety of all nations.

As Prime Minister Attlee said at Canterbury on Saturday, the success of the United Nations in this and other endeavors "is literally not merely a matter of life and death for the individual; it is a matter of life and death for civilization."

COMPARE THE NEWS

TWO ITEMS IN THIS WEEK'S NEWS, arising from the Marshall proposal for a unified European recovery plan, make one wonder if information gets into Russia with as much difficulty as it gets out.

A Paris dispatch, dated Wednesday night, read: "Climaxing two days of consultations, Foreign Secretary Bevin of Great Britain and Foreign Minister Bidault of France proposed that Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia meet them during the week beginning June 23 to discuss the plan of American aid proposed by State Secretary Marshall."

Another dispatch, dated next morning, quoted the Soviet News Agency Tass as commenting on the Anglo-French talks as follows: "One cannot rid oneself of the impression that these negotiations are nothing else but an attempt to reach agreement behind the back of the Soviet Union and of other European countries."

Fed only the latter journalistic fare, it is small wonder that the common citizens of Russia do not have much idea of what is going on in the world on this side of the iron curtain.

Walter Lippmann

GENERALITIES WON'T HELP

BOTH SENATOR Vandenberg and Mr. Hoover have asked the same question: what can the United States afford to export in order to assure the rehabilitation of the European and the world economy? This crucial question can be stated in general terms but it cannot be answered in general terms. It will have to be answered by making an estimate of the actual commodities which the outer world must obtain on a time schedule in the American market, and then of matching this estimate against what the United States can supply out of surplus, plus what she could supply by increasing the production of certain goods and by reducing her own consumption of certain goods.

THE GREAT VIRTUE of Secretary Marshall's approach to the problem is precisely that it will bring about a budgeting of the world's needs and the actual and potential American supplies. Thus the question will be answerable when the leading foreign countries have produced a consolidated estimate and time schedule of their needs, and when each important item in the estimate has been compared with the actual and the potential production and consumption in the United States.

To attempt to answer the question in advance, in the abstract, and theoretically, is impossible. For neither the needs of the outer world nor American capacity to supply them are, as engineers would say, constants. They are variables, which allow wide margins for adjustments, ingenuity, extra effort, and sacrifice.

FOR EXAMPLE, THE inquiry might show that an increase of European coal production in the next three years would greatly decrease European needs for American exports. It might show that to increase coal production, there is needed machinery from the United States, extra rations for miners, and additional consumer goods. It would be worth a very special effort by the United States to manufacture that machinery, to allocate the extra food and the extra goods. This would be a strategic, as distinguished from an aimless, contribution to the rehabilitation of Europe which would more than pay for itself because the effect would be to make Europe less dependent on America. It would tend to cure the very thing which Mr. Hoover, for example, fears—that the United States will deplete her own resources by over-exporting.

IF, ON THE OTHER HAND, Americans debate the problem in generalities, they will arrive at a series of hopeless contradictions. They will argue in one breath that they cannot afford to assist in effective rehabilitation. In the next breath they will denounce the spread of Communism, proclaim their determination to halt the expansion of Russia—all of which if it means anything at all, means that in the last analysis the United States would fight rather than surrender Europe and Asia to Soviet domination.

But if the United States cannot afford to rehabilitate Europe, which might cost six or seven billions a year, how on earth can she talk as if she might resist Russia by war, when that might well cost perhaps six billions a month? If she cannot afford to provide the working capital for the rehabilitation of her allies, what sense does it make to talk as if she could afford to go to war to defend them and the United States?

THE UNITED STATES should not debate this great, urgent, and extremely practical problem in generalities. The vice of generalities, including some of Mr. Hoover's theorizing and his obiter dicta, is that they produce heat rather than light, prejudice rather than judgment, and obscure the formulation of definite policies and a concrete program.

In Home Waters

THERE IS SOMETHING VERY ATTRACTIVE—especially these summer days—in the plan of a Nanaimo man to build a six-room house on a floating barge equipped with a Diesel engine. The proposal would seem to solve at one blow the housing problem, the desire for waterfront property, the wanderlust and the transportation needs of the enterprising builder.

The "foundations" of the house will consist of a flat-bottomed landing craft, obtained from the War Assets Corporation. In addition to the dwelling itself, there will be an observation cabin and a wheelhouse. It takes little imagination to picture the possibilities of such a combined habitation and conveyance in this area of island-dotted waterways, snug coves and thrilling scenery. Here is a prospect to tease the city-bound householder with visions of fishing and hunting at one's doorstep, a daily change of scene, and a full measure of sea and land adventure—all within the comfort of one's home.

Quoting

It is all very well to say that East and West must meet, but you must have a bridge for them to meet.—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

There will be no whitewash. There will be no witch hunt. There will be an America safe from the fifth column and equally safe from the Gestapo.—U. S. Attorney-General Tom Clark.

All Aboard For Utopia

Peacetime Horrors In The Indies

Australian News Letter

The world does not know what thousands of Netherlands East Indies natives have suffered in the past 18 months, since the coming of peace started bloodshed and famine in their own rich country, writes a special correspondent of the Melbourne Herald in Java.

I HAVE just returned from a visit to Dutch outposts south of Bandoeng, where a force of young Dutchmen is facing in sultry silence the positions of the Indonesian Republicans, a short distance across a plain.

Each night the Dutchmen retire to the northern bank of the river, which is the real demarcation line, and take up their gun positions, covering the bamboo suspension bridges spanning the stream. Each night there creep out pitiful human skeletons, fragments of what were once the happiest of all the N.E.I. natives, the Sundaes.

CROPS GONE

These people had been forced into the interior before the retreating Republicans a year ago. Now, their meagre rice crops commandeered, they sit in awaiting nightfall for fear of being shot. They are gathered up by the Dutch in the morning and taken to a Red Cross station.

I saw some of these people after they had been fed and had their wounds dressed. There were children too young to walk, women nursing babies, emaciated men.

In the province from which they are now emerging these peasants, before the war, fed themselves handsomely and exported the remaining half of their crop to other parts of the East Indies.

Back in the Red Cross hospital in Bandoeng I saw sights that made the little company at the Red Cross outpost look well by comparison. You have seen pictures of the horror camps in Europe—the living skeletons. They are here in Java, of all ages, from babies to old people, who inspire wonder that they can cling so tenaciously to life.

CHILDREN SUFFER

One little girl of three had wasted away to the weight and physique of a child of only three or four months. A boy aged 10 had shrivelled to the size of an Australian child of three or four. Only their great dark eyes seemed alive. And there are scores more like them.

Some were blind. None could walk, but a few could sit up in bed. The worst cases are doomed to death. For many of them blood or plasma is their only hope. This is being obtained from former American army stocks and flown to Java.

This pitiful migration is going on at the borders of all Dutch-held territory in northern Java, notably around Batavia, where it is estimated that at least 30 refugees from the interior are picked up in the streets a day, dead of starvation because they were missed by the Red Cross workers combing the city from early morning.

LIFE AND DEATH

The plight of those in Sourabaya has been made more acute by the deliberate flooding of the rice fields and sugar lands, to prevent which the Dutch took military action.

The politics of the Indonesian Dutch dispute can be left out of this awful human situation. To these poor pieces of human driftwood who are the victims, the issue is not Republican or Dutch colonial rule, but simply life and death.

A handful of Dutch doctors and nursing sisters are carrying on without native nurses, because those trained for the work say they are afraid of reprisals.

Will They Never Learn?

nary schooling, keeps them away from their parents the better part of the day. At 12 they enter the Young Communist Movement, where they get advanced training in the arts of war and revolution and are prepared for the day when the "International Soviet" shall be the human race."

HOW TO COUNT

The article relates how even arithmetic lessons are made the occasion for emphasis on war. An early lesson reads: "One army, one force will destroy the enemy. Two brothers are fighting in the army. Three sisters rushed there and took the wounded. Four houses were burned. Five hostages were shot . . . etc."

What will youngsters brought up on this fare be like when they are of army age? People who remember the heavy tramp of bull-necked Elite Guards down Unter den Linden or the massed, unthinking hordes of Black Shirts before the Palazzo Venezia, can supply the answer.

Against this background of school and after-school training, Martin describes the effect of Tito's program on home life by telling of the experience of a Yugoslav mother whose little son ended up by calling her a Fascist and threatening to report her to the secret police. Said this mother to a friend of Martin's:

"I shall never forget the day that Ivan came home in the uniform of the Young Pioneers—little red cotton pants and a military cap with a red star on it. He strutted up and down, chanting a song about 'Fascist dogs' and machine guns, and how gladly our youth go to battle. I was afraid. But there was nothing I could do. Though I refused to admit it to myself, the thought haunted me that I had already lost the struggle for the possession of my son. He was now Tito's."

U.N. ATTENTION?

While the democratic world is teaching its school children the lessons which supposedly were learned from the last war—bearance, understanding, co-operation, brotherly love—the future citizens of Yugoslavia are being primed with this old-line doctrine of war and hatred. If it were only for possible use in some border skirmish born of tradition Balkan racial rivalries, or for the personal pleasure of Marshal Tito at May Day parades, the rest of the world might treat it with the contempt it deserves. But nations are not segregated any more. "Border skirmishes" now have a habit of developing into global wars. Particularly when we recognize that the "foreigners" against which the Yugoslav children are being trained are plainly indicated as "Fascist Britain and Fascist United States," then Tito's criminal corruption of the minds of his deluded young followers is something that might well engage the attention of the United Nations Organization, whose charter enjoins it to investigate and remove all threats to international peace.

COURSE IN CITIZENSHIP

Edmonton Journal
Canadians are amazed at the speed with which European immigrants become "hundred per cent Americans"; but this is the result of a deliberate and well-thought-out national policy. Here in Canada we need not imitate the American methods too slavishly. But we certainly should give equal attention to the task of making our new settlers real Canadians.

CLIPPED at RANDOM

ASSISTANCE RENDERED

The Reader's Digest
The following "Card of Thanks" appeared in a Maryland weekly newspaper: "I want to thank the members of the Leonardtown Fire Department, my neighbors and friends for their efficiency in assisting at the fire which burned my home to the ground on Feb. 14."

DRIFTING ALONG

Winnipeg Free Press
The news from Washington lately, the developing plans of the government for a new and bolder approach to world recovery, suggests that the process of drift, if it can be called that, will not last much longer.

OBVIOUS?

S. P. Tyler in Toronto Saturday Night

From Hansard, 1947: Mr. Abbott: "I would hope that it would be possible to remove this (luxury) tax as soon as it can be done."

From Heywood, 1946: "The cat would eat fish and would not wet her feet."

THAT'S THAT

Windsor Star
To become effective, Congressman Bryson's new prohibition amendment limiting beverage alcohol to one-half of one per cent would have to be approved by a two-thirds majority of both House and Senate and then by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States. So that's all you'll hear of that.

THINGS IN COMMON

Edmonton Bulletin
The communist and the socialist have one thing in common. They are deadly enemies of free enterprise, which is another term for freedom to work and to carry on business as one may choose. This to them is anathema. It is the thing that they — and all other apostles of state-bossism — are out to destroy.

MUST ANSWER

Financial Post
Private enterprise must speak up and in a language that everyone understands. J. H. Brace, president of the Montreal Board of Trade, pointed out at the annual meeting of that organization. While the Communists and Socialists have been loudly trying to sell their miserable wares, nobody has been trying to sell the system that has given this continent the highest standard of living in the world.

FOR THE GOOD OF INDIA

Montreal Star
For the good of India most of the states should disappear as independent entities. The largest can go on for a time if they make some mutually satisfactory arrangement about communications and defence, but the majority will be placed in the impossible position of independence without strength. The protection of Britain will be withdrawn. On these feudal relics will be the pressure of Pakistan and Hindustan to federate or merge. The alternative is the Balkanization of India.

WHAT SAY, HOUSEWIFE?

Halifax Herald
No reasonable person wants to see the butter producers of this country unfairly treated or held down to price-levels at which they cannot live. But every reasonable person wants to see the consumers of this country treated with equal fairness and consideration. And there is no fairness in a situation in which this arbitrary ban on butter substitutes is maintained. It cannot be justified on any grounds of reason or constructive trade policies. Butter is the only commodity that enjoys such protection . . . and Canada is the only country in the world that maintains such a ban.

Hazardous Haul

Exchange
Three fishermen from Port Lincoln, South Australia, caught 540 deep-water snapper sharks between 3.15 a.m. on a recent Sunday and 10 a.m. the next day. The haul was valued at £300.

They worked continuously while at sea, and on their return were exhausted, each man suffering from the effects of ammonia. This is exuded from the male and it attacks the face and hands like sunburn.

When a check of equipment was made, it was found that 200 hooks had been lost. This probably meant the loss of about 100 sharks.

The shark livers, which are the most valuable portion of the catch, were sent to Adelaide to be used in the manufacture of cod liver oil.

The sharks averaged between three and four feet in length, and the flesh was sold for human consumption.

Transport Controller Foresees Rail Car Shortage Next Winter

MONTREAL (CP)—A prediction came today from Transport Controller B. S. Liberty that Canada's freight car shortage of last winter will be duplicated next year despite reports from the railway companies that long-awaited replacements for cars no longer serviceable will soon be coming off the assembly lines.

"I don't see how the freight car situation will be any better next winter than last, particularly in view of the forecast shortage of feed grain in the east which will necessitate heavy rail shipments from the prairies and thus put an extra load on the railways," Mr. Liberty said.

"Both our railway lines have placed orders for new equipment, which will start getting delivered very shortly. But there won't be enough to offset the shortage; in fact, the railways will be discarding more of their old equipment than they will be getting in new equipment, so the situation from that point of view may be even worse."

"I doubt if they will have as many cars next winter as they had last winter."

Shortage of material and labor trouble delayed delivery of new cars last year and this, coupled with increasing demand for cars and the severe winter that kept many of them on the sidings for days on end, led to last winter's severe dearth of cars.

Both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific companies said today, however, that new cars are on order and delivery will begin before the year-end.

C.N.R. TO GET 5,200.

The C.N.R., which owns approximately 61,000 cars on Canadian lines, has 5,200 new ones on order. None has been delivered so far, but 2,700 are expected before the end of the year. Another 1,500 are expected in the first quarter of 1948, with the others due later in the year.

The C.N.R. expects to retire about 350 cars from service this year.

The C.P.R. has 2,500 box cars on order and already this year has received about 750. These, however, were ordered in 1946 and the first consignment from the 2,500-car order is not expected to be received before the fall, possibly in October.

The line has retired an average of 2,200 cars annually over the last 15 years.

Veteran Officers Take Over Princess Kathleen

Capt. Martin Mackinnon, veteran skipper of the Canadian Pacific coast fleet, takes charge of the bridge of Ss. Princess Kathleen, remodeled at a cost of $1,500,000 after five years war service, as she resumes service on the Triangle Run this week-end. The crack steamship, which will make the port to port run in four hours flat, will sail from here at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon for Seattle to take up the summer schedule Sunday. Capt. Mackinnon joined the C.P.R. as third officer on the Princess Maquinna in 1916 and has since commanded most of the ships of the company's coast fleet.

Chief Engineer William Neilson, who is in charge of the ship's engine room, has been with the C.P.R. fleet since 1908. He served aboard the Kathleen while she was a troopship for the British Admiralty in the Mediterranean Sea.

100 Veterans In Older Age Groups Placed In Jobs

The campaign of the committee of the Victoria Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, under the chairmanship of D. J. Proudfoot, succeeded in securing jobs for more than 100 war veterans in the older age groups, it was reported Thursday.

Main work of the committee was to canvass employers in Greater Victoria and encourage the employment of the veterans in the "over 40 years" category.

At the final meeting of the campaign group Mr. Proudfoot pointed out that experience gained by his committee during the drive will be brought into play when future action of the same nature is required. "The problem will always be with us to a greater or lesser degree," he said.

In his report Mr. Proudfoot recommended establishment of units of the corps of commissionaires in all cities to seek jobs of the older men with the aid of a federal government grant, that service clubs, because of their access to employers and businessmen, also be asked to include the work in their annual programs. He also recommended that further action such as his committee has undertaken be revived in six months' time.

Mr. Proudfoot was of the opinion that municipal councils and the provincial government should be reminded often of their agreement to take on a share of these men. Results, he said, to date from this direction had been poor.

The chairman's report will go to the B.C. government and the Department of Veterans' Affairs. During the intervening period between campaigns, he will remain as chairman.

From Ottawa comes a report that the situation in regard to employment of older men in British Columbia is still bad, there being still 1,759 on the unemployed lists at the end of May. These men are 45 years and older.

The policy of the Dominion government in establishing an age limit of 35 for starting employment in such organizations as the Bank of Canada, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and other Crown companies is blamed for some of the trouble.

It is pointed out that problem will become more acute from now on because statistics show there will be 20,000 veterans reaching 45 years each year.

Lowest Ebb Tide Makes Navigation Very Tricky Here

With the sea receding to its lowest ebb of the year, as low as seven feet, navigation is exceptionally tricky in the Inner Harbor today. The tide will be nearly eight and one-half inches below the level of the lowest normal tides.

Normal low tides vary from about 19 feet to 24 feet, according to charts corrected in 1940. Since then the depth of water might be even less due to silting.

Although extremely low tides added considerably to navigation problems, marine authorities did not expect any trouble for vessels manoeuvring in and out of the Inner Harbor. But as they put it: "It's a ticklish job handling a big ship at ebb tide, especially if there is a strong westerly wind."

C.P.R. officials said their ships would have no trouble entering or leaving the Inner Harbor, but that navigation would be a little more difficult.

The low tides give an opportunity to those interested in marine life to see portions of the sea bottom along the waterfront not ordinarily exposed.

Execution In England

LEEDS, Eng. (AP)—Eric Charles Briggs, 40, a weaver, was hanged today for stabbing his 49-year-old wife to death. During his trial a month ago, a 19-year-old soldier summoned as a defence witness stated from the witness chair that he had committed the crime, but detectives said he had "confessed" for the sake of notoriety.

STRONG AND HEALTHY

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B<sub>1</sub>, C, D, Riboflavin (B<sub>2</sub>), and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

Ward 1 Saanich Approves $10,000 Lighting By-law

By a vote of 275 for and 75 against, Saanich Ward One Rate-payers endorsed the $10,000 street lighting system proposed for their area when they went to the polls yesterday on this and the transportation franchise question.

The area to be lighted in the ward is bounded roughly on the north by Derby Road, on the east by Oak Bay, on the south by the city and on the west by Cedar Hill golf course.

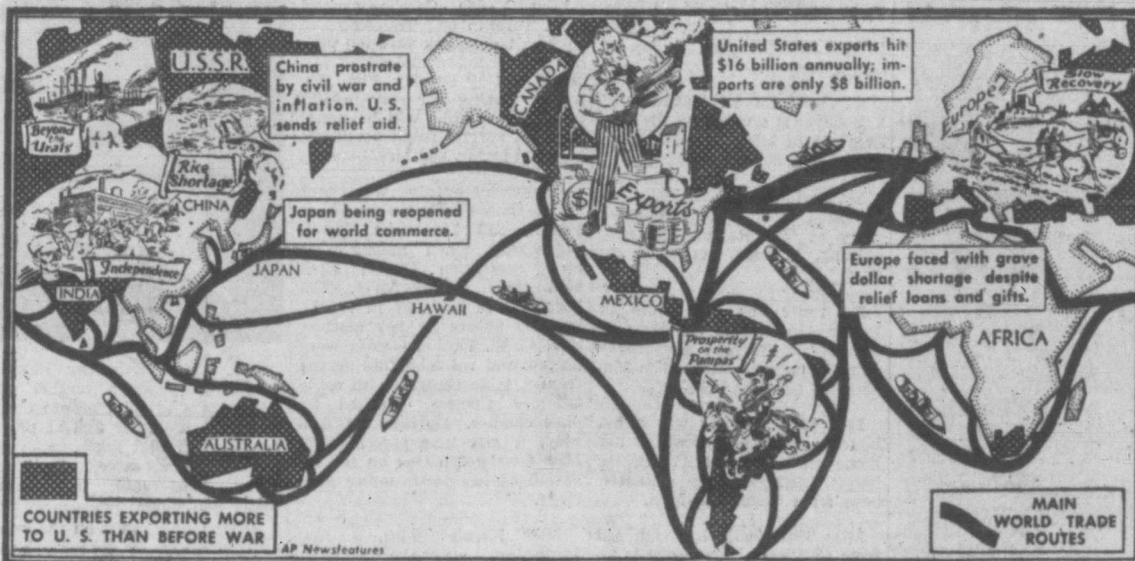

Under the scheme there will be installed about 90 lights ranging between 250 and 400 candle-power.

The lighting program will be paid for under the local improvement plan, Councillor Thomas Alexander, representing this ward, being the strongest champion of a plan to build Saanich services, roads and other things up on that system.

This is the forerunner to other improvements in Saanich street lighting which will eventually embrace the entire municipality.

Councillor Alexander expressed his approval of ward ratepayers endorsing the proposal. "I think this a very fine progressive move for Saanich," he said. Reeves E. C. Warren expressed the hope that when the council places similar lighting by-laws before the ratepayers in the other inner wards they will be supported by a similar majority.

World Dollar Shortage Menaces Trade

By ROBERT N. COOL

WASHINGTON, D.C.—United States economists are worried by the growing dollar shortage in the countries that would like to buy United States goods.

High prices have a lot to do with it, whether the would-be buyers are at home or abroad, but prices are seen as only a partial cause of the incipient dislocation of world trade due to lack of dollars.

The basic problem seems to be that the undamaged highly-productive United States—with much of the world's gold buried at Fort Knox, Ky.—has all sorts of products that other countries want and, too often, desperately need. We have the food (more than 1,000,000,000 bushels of winter wheat are now approaching a record harvest). We are making the machines of production and use, the gadgets, garments and conveniences which people want in an industrial civilization.

Largely as a result of the war, many other nations find themselves with wrecked or run-down factories, demoralized and hungry workmen, short of everything from tools to fertilizer. These countries require imports badly, but they are not now in a position to sell us much and thus hold up their end of a balanced foreign trade.

NO WAY TO BUY

Apart from — and since the war we have given some $11,000,000,000 to Europe alone — there is no way these countries can buy in the dollar market except by selling to us. In other words, the "dollar shortage" means that foreign nations are not producing and selling to the United States enough goods to pay for the American products shipped abroad.

"Exports," says the Wall Street Journal, "are siphoning American dollars out of world markets faster than we can pump them back by buying abroad." By au-turn, this journal warns, the shortage may become acute in Europe, with the sterling area and Latin America "in real difficulty" next winter or spring.

Currently United States exports are booming at an annual rate of almost $16,000,000,000. Imports are only about half that figure.

Already Britain has been forced to take steps to reduce its buying in the United States because last year's loan is running out and the British export drive is less successful than had been hoped. Now it is said that Britain plans to trade more in Europe and less in the United States.

Increasingly this pattern appears in other lands, with a consequent attempt to enter into barter deals among themselves as a substitute for expensive trade with America. Even the relatively prosperous Latin American countries complain that they can't buy what they'd like to here.

Dollar reserves—money apart from that received currently from the United States—does not exceed a usable total of $5,000,000,000 in the entire world, according to the Commerce Department. That is less than the annual trade deficit in foreign dealings with the United States.

The only trouble with indiscriminate credits and loans granted by the United States to allow purchase of American goods is that it can't go on indefinitely. After World War I the United States adopted a policy of huge foreign loans and high tariffs on foreign goods. Export sales climbed from little more than two billion dollars in 1914 to $8,000,000,000 in 1920. But when the crash came it sent the figure for 1932 lower than it had ever been since 1905.

WORLD TRADE CHARTER

Looking beyond the relief needs of the present, the state department has embarked on a program to try to prevent the disastrous cycle of the last postwar era. In co-operation with the United Nations, it has led in formulating a world trade charter and a world trade organization. Eighteen nations have been busy at Geneva, Switzerland, on these projects.

The world trade charter aims at making raw materials and markets available to all countries, unhampered by excessive tariff or governmental barriers. Its program is based upon multilateral trade agreements of a type started in this country by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in the late 1930's.

Whether Congress will go along with the state department on this has been questioned. Opposition to trade agreement's appeared last winter, and recently a new protective duty on wool brought charges that the United States was making it impossible for Australia to sell in the American market.

Those who insist that balanced trade is necessary even for the United States' prosperity point out that foreign commerce now accounts for about 10 per cent of American income. In the event of a domestic recession it may become even more.

Marian Macguire Takes Wedding Vows

Church of Our Lord was the scene of an early evening wedding Saturday when vows were repeated before Rev. Donald Gordon by Miss Marian Roberta Macguire and Albert Edmund Bates.

Smart white hat and accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias and red rosebuds added contrast to the bride's suit of sea-foam blue. She is the daughter of Mrs. E. Martin, 1215 Richardson Street, formerly of Moose Jaw, Sask., and the late R. A. Martin. An apricot toned suit with dark brown accessories were worn by Miss Elizabeth Martin who attended her sister. She chose a corsage bouquet of Tallman roses and mauve sweet peas.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs.

E. Bates, 725 Kings Road, chose as best man, his brother, Wilfred, Beverly Beattie and Lorne Chambers were ushers.

Guests were received at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Chambers, 1215 Richardson Street, where R. Bailey gave the bridal toast. A three-tier cake centred the table covered with an Italian cutwork cloth.

The bride donned a magenta red topcoat over her wedding suit for the honeymoon up-land. Mr. and Mrs. Bates will make their home at 1986 St. Ann Street.

Lions Ladies Entertain Visitors At Mammoth Tea

Following a scenic drive around the waterfront Thursday afternoon, members of the ladies' auxiliary to the Lions Club entertained at an afternoon tea at the Crystal Garden in honor of visiting auxiliary members.

Tables were set on the dance floor at the south end of the building and around the mezzanine promenade.

Len Acres' orchestra played during the tea hour.

The head table set on the orchestra dias at the far side of the pool was centred with a low silver bowl filled with pale yellow and gold roses and bridal wreath. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. T. Betram, wife of the deputy district governor and Mrs. Joe Chanter, wife of the president of the Vancouver-Burrard Club, and first president of the Victoria ladies' auxiliary.

Corsage bouquets of purple violas, sweetheart roses, tied with purple and gold satin ribbons, Lions Club colors were presented to honor guests and every member who attended the tea received a small souvenir letter opener with maple leaf decoration topped by the crown.

Mrs. George Holt and Mrs. Jack Fuller, conveners of the tea welcomed guests, assisted by Mrs. R. B. Young, president of the Victoria auxiliary.

Others on the committee were Mrs. R. H. Spillsbury, Mrs. W. Taverner, Mrs. B. Richardson, Mrs. A. Burr and Mrs. W. A. Trenholme and Mrs. S. C. Johns.

Sports Develop Self-Assurance

Plan to take on a sport or game, you school girls who are casting around for something worthwhile to do during the summer vacation. Inviting you to take it up, a sport or a game offers one of the best opportunities to improve your figure, body-awareness and self-confidence.

But you'll need to master proficiency. And that will take coaching from either a cracker-jack amateur or a professional. The time and money spent in learning properly how to dance or fence, for instance, will yield full value in a lovely, graceful figure. The extra bonus is a superb self-confidence.

Swimming is as valuable. As a sport it has few equals as a means of building up a chest, lengthening muscles and giving a girl body awareness. Almost any solo sport that you master — tennis, badminton, squash or horseback riding — helps to improve your figure, physical well-being and self-confidence.

Church Parade—Fourth West Cathedral Girl Guides, James Bay Guides and First Victoria Brownie Pack attended church parade last Sunday morning at Church of Our Lord. Color bearers for the parade were Nora Wolfe and Ann Armstrong, with the following girls acting as escorts: Sybil Irish, Phyllis French, Maureen Smith and Doreen Carey. Divisional Commissioner Mrs. F. W. Midgley and District Commissioner, Miss L. Ryan, accompanied the guides and Brownies.

First Victoria Pack—Divisional Brownie examiner, Mrs. E. M. Cornish was hostess recently to members of First Victoria Pack. During the afternoon, four Brownies, Lillian Houston, Diana Gordon, Barbara Hawkes and Norma Wigley, were successfully tested for the Golden Hand badges. Games were played in the garden and tea for grown-ups served at an outside fire. After refreshments Brownies hiked to the top of Mount Tolmie.

Mrs. Tom Betram, Ladysmith, wife of the District Deputy Governor, presided at the urns. Pictured with her from left to right are, Mrs. Vic Johnson, Everett, Mrs. S. C. Johns, Victoria, and Mrs. T. W. Fowler, whose husband is a past international director.

Good Shoes Give Self-Confidence

Nothing helps more to inspire a self-confident walk or to put a woman at her social ease when standing or sitting than shoes that look impeccable and fit properly.

If shoes are shabby, a woman's walk almost invariably seems to apologize for their limitations. If they're her Sunday-best or second-string shoes, brushed, shined or repaired to look like new, they have a way of inspiring self-confidence from the ground up. If shoes don't fit properly, a woman's behavior pattern reflects her lack of physical ease. Her reaction provides fun for the cartoonist or humorist when she loses a shoe that she surreptitiously slips off. If she grins and bears the discomfort of a pinching shoe, she can't give much thought to her own or other people's conversation. Nor can she move about with ease or grace.

Most women make the mistake, so the sales people say, of not buying shoes big enough. But shoes which satisfy all the usual requirements of fit will bring on grimaces if the heel is too high. A fraction more heel than a woman is used to wearing can hoist her foot into a tortured line.

Conservative Women Hear Immigration Talk

Mrs. Hubert Lethaby spoke on "Immigration and the Problems of Settlers in Canada," at a meeting of the Women's Progressive Conservative Association, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. R. H. Green, Rupert Street.

Following business, a silver tea was held, proceeds of which will be used to purchase three armchairs for the Veterans' Hospital. A large silver bowl of roses, flanked by pink candles in silver holders centred the tea table where Mrs. Herbert Anscomb and Mrs. G. R. Pearkes presided at the tea urns.

Mrs. R. D. Earvey, who presided at the meeting, announced that there would be no meetings during July and August. Five new members were welcomed.

ONE MINUTE NEWS
ABOUT
JOHNS-MANVILLEASBESTOS TAKES TO THE AIRWAYS

Here's a piece of news about Asbestos! Now, the magic mineral is used to make a type of mail bag for bank cheques so they can travel by air. Daily, over seven hundred pounds of cheques, guarded by Asbestos, fly between New York and thirteen other cities.

Asbestos, you know, gets its name from the Greek word meaning "indestructible." You can't burn it—even with a blowtorch.

Johns-Manville Asbestos textiles are used for fireproof theatre curtains, fire smothering blankets, and special clothing that makes factory jobs safer. For electrical insulations, they are made into woven cloths, tapes and tubing. Almost every day sees more new uses for Johns-Manville Asbestos Textiles that can't burn and won't rot or decay.

NEPAL IS FAIRLY
PROGRESSIVE BUT TRANSPORT IS SLOW

Nepal is "the home of the world's tallest mountain." Inside its borders is Mount Everest, which rises to a height of more than five and one-half miles.

That is one claim to fame for Nepal, but it has others as well. Nowhere in the Orient are there better soldiers than the Gurkhas of Nepal.

In the recent World War about 120,000 Gurkha soldiers fought on the side of the Allies. Field Marshal Wavell made a speech in which he praised "the courage of the Nepal warriors." He said that they had helped greatly to bring about "this glorious victory."

The Gurkhas make up one of the main racial groups in Nepal. Other important groups are the Newars and the Murmis. Gurkha men have been in the custom of hiring themselves out as soldiers for the British.

Ninety years ago there was a rebellion against British rule in India. This is known in history as the "Indian Mutiny." Native soldiers who had been hired by the British for their army turned their guns on the whites. For a time the natives were successful, but at length the British began to get control of things. The
DOCTOR
Says:LIFE IS A FOUR-LEGGED CHAIR

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

A human being sits psychologically on a four-legged chair, says Dr. C. C. Burlingame of Hartford, Conn., in the Journal of the American Medical Association. One leg is his job, the second is his hobby, third his play, and fourth his body.

If the chair has four solid legs he sits comfortably, but if any of the legs are too short, too long, or missing, he wobbles. Psychotherapy, the personal tutoring for those who are living an unbalanced life, helps line up the legs.

Work is essential to happiness. The most tragic feature of idleness is the feeling that we are not needed. As long as a normal person has a job, life is worthwhile.

A man whose work brings him personal pleasure is fortunate. If a person does not have a pleasant job, he finds satisfaction in a hobby. There will come a time when the hobby will be more important than a job, no matter how pleasant the job.

IMPORTANCE OF PLAY

Play is the business of childhood as it strengthens the muscles and stimulates growth. Long after the physical effects of play have disappeared, the lessons learned on the play field remain. In order to be happy, man needs to enjoy himself in the company of others. Unless we learn to do this when we are young, it will be difficult to master when we are older.

The success of the old family physician with nervous patients was due to his knowledge of people rather than of what was wrong with them. A modern psychiatrist is also successful in handling patients because he is first a physician, second a sociologist, third a psychologist, fourth an educator, and fifth a vocational guidance expert.

How would you like a summer free from flies, mosquitoes, moths, and other tiresome insect pests in your house? It's not only possible—it's easy—with GREEN CROSS DDT RESIDUAL HOUSEHOLD SPRAY! This is the miracle wartime insecticide in its most effective form for household use... non-staining, safe to use, with no unpleasant odour.

"GREEN CROSS" Residual Household Spray is more than an ordinary DDT spray! DDT itself is slow in action, but the "GREEN CROSS" product is fortified with a special activator giving it quick knockdown as well as high killing power.

Notice that word "RESIDUAL"—the secret of GREEN CROSS DDT's fantastic success! With old type "space sprays," rooms had to be done practically every day. With GREEN CROSS, the lethal effect is lasting! You spray the surfaces where flies rest. The spray evaporates, leaving a fine, unseen deposit of DDT on the surface. This remains deadly to insects that touch it, for weeks.

For best results, be thorough in your application. Spray walls, ceilings, window frames, doors, etc., being sure to cover the entire surface as if you were painting. DO THIS NOW, WHILE HOUSECLEANING and once again later in the season.

For Summer Camps, too! Remember to take a can of "Green Cross" DDT Spray up to Camp... it will help make life more comfortable.

GET YOUR SUPPLY IN—TODAY!
In 8 oz., 16 oz., 32 oz., and 1 gal. cans.

College Graduates Offered Scholarships By Rotary

College graduates are being sought by the Victoria Rotary Club as candidates for the Rotary Foundation Fellowship plan which provides scholarships for further studies at any university in the British Empire or foreign countries.

James Beatty, past president of the Rotary Club, told the club's weekly meeting Thursday that two or more Canadians would be offered scholarships under the $2,000,000 foundation plan which was inaugurated in the United States in the early thirties. He urged prospective candidates to apply as soon as possible for the scholarships in order to avoid unnecessary delay.

The Rotary Foundation Fellowship plan for further studies was open to college graduates of all nations, he explained. Successful applicants of various nations, were given the opportunity to study at any university outside their own countries.

Applications for scholarships would be sent to a central regional committee which would choose two or more candidates.

The underlying purpose of the whole plan, Mr. Beatty said, was to promote international goodwill and to provide promising young men with potentialities for leadership, the opportunity to develop those potentialities, and to give them an earlier and more ready opportunity to exercise their capacities for leadership.

Last year no Canadians were chosen because most of the young men were still tied up with the armed forces, he said, in expressing the hope that college graduates would avail themselves of the opportunity to continue their studies abroad.

In order to qualify for scholarships, the candidate must be between the ages of 20 and 28 and be of good health, he said.

While primary consideration was given to the scholastic capacities of the candidate, he added, equal importance in consideration of his case was given to the factors of character, leadership and service. Race, color or creed were not considered.

Commerce Chamber Declares Communists Active In Canada

TORONTO (CP)—Communists are more active in Canada today than ever before, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce reported in an analysis of Communist activity released today following a meeting of the chamber's national board of directors.

The 40-page report, several months in preparation, is documented with frequent references to Communist Party publications and to investigations of party activities in Canada and the United States.

"The chamber believes that it has a responsibility to all Canadians to show that the theory and practice of Communism is incompatible with the way of life which Canadians know and which most of us wish to retain," says a preface to the report.

The chamber expresses no opinion on the advisability of outlawing Communism in Canada and declares that no attack is intended on the government or the people of Russia in the conduct of their own affairs. But it adds:

"Any power which attempts to force its own form of government beyond its own borders and upon other countries must be prepared to have its methods exposed and full publicity given to the attempt."

The report brands disbandment of the Communist International in 1943 as "a clever lie," and quotes documents produced in the investigation of the Royal Commission on Espionage as proving that a "general staff" is still promoting a world revolution from Moscow.

Detailed sections deal with the party press in Canada, methods of infiltrating labor unions and other organizations, and Communist Party aims. The latter section concludes that the party preaches overturn of the Canadian form of government by force, stands for the destruction of political freedom and compels obedience to a "party line" rather than to constituted authority.

that Canada's responsibility did not end with "a pension or a handout." Suitable employment should be provided elderly citizens, he said.

Rev. E. G. Hansell, S.C., Macleod, Alta., termed the legislation "a disgrace" and urged the government be forced by a negative vote into going to the country.

General regret was expressed the means test had not been abolished or relaxed.

Capacity Crowd At Grand Rally Of Lions Convention

A capacity crowd of 3,000 persons filled the Bay Street Armories Thursday evening for the Grand Rally of Lions International District 19 convention.

Visiting Lions were welcomed to the province by Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests, and Mayor Percy E. George expressed greetings of the councils and citizens of Greater Victoria.

The highlight of the evening was the "Pageant of Nations in Lionism," in which members of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team, the Victoria Girls' Pipe Band, the Oak Bay Girls' Choir, the Oak Bay Girls' Drill Team and Royal Canadian Sea Scouts took part.

Jack Kendrick acted as commentator of the pageant and as he reviewed the history of Lionism in the various nations, 21 girls, in authentic costumes of these nations, were paraded onto the stage. Each girl was escorted by a sea cadet who carried her country's flag.

The first Lions club was organized in the United States in 1917. There are now 5,200 clubs organized in that country. Canada was the second nation to organize a Lions club. Canada's first club was founded in 1920. There are 251 clubs in operation at the present time. Cuba has 108 clubs in operation.

The commentator noted that only one club functioned in the British Honduras and that the membership was limited to two. Following the pageant, the entire gathering sang the Anglo-American hymn and the Song of the Lions. Singing was led by a smartly-uniformed majorette.

Five-year-old Sheran Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Williams, sang two numbers.

Harold Ingram, Seattle Lion, entertained with a hula dance. Eight local girls, two pipers and a drummer presented traditional Scottish dances and airs.

John B. Priestley, president of the Victoria Lions Club, introduced visiting international and district officers. Clarence Johns acted as master of ceremony.

3 Liberal M.P.'s Break Party Lines To Criticize Age Pensions Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—The government today found itself facing one of the strongest blocs of Commons criticism of the entire session on the issue of its old age pension legislation, criticism that split government party ranks and was aimed, not at what the legislation would do, but what it wouldn't do.

Demand for a contributory old age pension plan for Canada were heard in the Commons Thursday while members on all sides of the House fired criticism at the government's bill aimed at increasing from $25 to $30 the basic rate for old age and blind pensions.

Debate broke party lines with James Sinclair, Lib., Vancouver North, George Cruickshank, Lib., Fraser Valley, and Thomas Reid, Lib., New Westminster, criticizing the "meagreness" of the legislation.

MACINNIS' VIEWS
Angus MacInnis, C.C.F. member for Vancouver East, flatly termed the measure a "disgrace." Other speakers included Stanley Knowles, C.C.F., Winnipeg North Centre; Labor Minister Mitchell; F. D. Shaw, S.C., Red Deer, Alta.; Rev. E. G. Hansell, S.C., Macleod, Alta.; J. L. Gibson, Ind., Comox-Alberni; Rev. Dan McIvor, Lib., Fort William; F. S. Zaplitny, C.C.F., Dauphin, Man.; William Irvine, C.C.F., Cariboo; Patrick Ashby, S.C., Edmonton East, and Cecil Merritt, V.C., P.C., Vancouver-Burrard.

Mr. Sinclair termed the bill a "great" and "bitter, bitter," disappointment and said he would seek to have it referred to the Commons committee on industrial relations for searching examination.

He proposed the government take immediate steps to inaugurate a contributory old age pension scheme by enlarging the unemployment insurance fund and increasing the premiums.

He also suggested the government implement its pension proposals to the Dominion-Provincial conference and increase its contribution to $30 a month payable as a "right" at 70, abolish the means test and draw back the surplus from those with sufficient independent income through the income tax structure, as already was being done in the case of family allowances. Urging the government to implement its original pension proposals, which hinged on an overall Dominion-Provincial financial agreement, Mr. Sinclair said he did not see why the peoples of western Canada and the maritimes should suffer because of the "obstinacy" of the premiers of Quebec and Ontario.

Mr. Reid said pensions should be national in scope and stressed

Canadian Legion Romp To Sixth Straight Boxla Win

Canadian Legion won their sixth straight lacrosse decision last night and the victims were the cellar-dwelling James Bay outfit who have yet to win a game this season. Score of the one-sided contest, that saw Legion playing under wraps most of the time, was 20 to 5.

The veterans, who undoubtedly boast the strongest team in the league, didn't have much trouble with the short-handed Bays. After spotting the Bays the opening marker, Vets whipped five past Gawley in the first quarter to lead 5 to 1. They added another five in the second 15 minutes with only one reply and then romped through the third and fourth periods to score at will.

Ralph Baker with four goals, was the leading goalgetter for Ed Hall's proteges. Other highpoint men were Ed McKim with three goals, Arnie Ferguson with two goals and three assists, Red Mason with two markers and three assists and Duff McGaghey with a like number of points.

Showing up to the best advantage for the Bays were Al Denoni, who tallied three of their five goals, and young Bernie Clarkson up from the intermediate ranks. Gawley in the Bay nets stopped 23 shots while Long saved on 18 for the Vets.

GAME TONIGHT

Tonight's game at Stevenson Park will pit Jokers against Foul Bay at 6.30. This contest should be a thriller as both teams are evenly matched with Foul Bay riding the crest of a winning streak.

Weekly Fishing Bulletin Issued By Game Wardens

G. C. STEVENSON

Shawnigan Lake—General results fair. Few good catches. Few anglers recently.

Wolf Lake—Good on troll. Fair on fly.

Kemp Lake—Fair.

Copley Lakes—No report.

Macdonald Lake—Very fair. Few anglers here, but catches have been good.

Grant Lake—No report.

Koksilah River—A number of steelhead taken during the week. Spectacle Lake—Poor.

J. W. JONES

Thetis Lakes—Both lakes a little better than last week.

Prospect Lake—Fair.

No report from Salt Spring lakes.

Salmon fishing is good in Saanich Arm and around Sidney and Coal Island.

ALBURNI DISTRICT

A. L. FROST

Lakes—All lakes in the district are good with both fly and troll.

Rivers—River fishing has improved. In the Campbell and Quinsam Rivers, good catches being taken. Some trout taken in the Salmon and White Rivers at Sayward. Some fair catches in the Courtenay and Puntledge Rivers.

Sea—Although at times spotty, bluebacks are being taken from Comox to Campbell River. Good catches of spring salmon are being had at Kitty Coleman, some up to 32 pounds have been taken.

RONALD LAWLEY

Lakes—Cameron, Deep, Dixon, Elsie, Great Central, Nahmint and Sprout Lakes, all fair. The rivers are still holding some nice trout. The sockeye are still running and certain areas are closed, but the trout are very shy, which requires great skill to entice them to the lure. The drifting or dead fly is the deadliest at the moment.

Cameron Lake—Fish the top end for best results.

Deep Lake—Four-mile walk, all shoals, etc.

Elsie Lake—Fisherman's paradise (fly).

The above lakes are all on the A.P.L. rights and permission will have to be gained to ride on their equipment, except Cameron Lake, which is on the main highway to Alberni.

QUALICUM AND PARKSVILLE DISTRICT

A. HIGGS

Hatchery Officer

Trout—Weather has been unsettled and trout fishing has suffered accordingly. Estuary fishing has been affected most, and with the added factor of poor tides, sport provided has been poor, with few fish showing. Tides are much better for the next 10 days or so, however, and with indications of better weather ahead, the estuaries should be a good bet from now on.

The fishing at Cameron Lake, and particularly in the stretch of the Little Qualicum immediately below the lake, has also apparently been affected by the unseasonable weather, and on the average, bags have been light most days.

Wet fly and bait gave best results, contrary to the usual, that at this time of the year when dry fly generally provides most of the sport.

Salmon—Wind and rainy weather affected the salmon fishing during the past week with few boats out. Fishing was spotty.

Boston Sox Back Into American League Lead

Baseball's dizzy pennant races are reverting to form as the clubs approach the one-third mark with another Boston Red Sox-St. Louis Cardinals world series a distinct possibility.

Mention of such a pairing would have prompted loud hoots and a hurry-up call for the booby wagon two weeks ago. Now the Red Sox are in first place with an unbroken eight-game winning streak and the Cards have surged from last to fifth, only 4 1/2 games out of first, by winning their last seven straight.

The Red Sox moved into the American League lead yesterday, while enjoying an open date, on the strength of Chicago's 6 to 4 victory over New York Yankees.

Boston's Braves became the new National League pacesetter, while watching the rain wash out their scheduled game in Cincinnati, because New York fell before Pittsburgh, 12 to 2.

The only teams not approximating their expected form are the Giants and the Philadelphia A's. Nobody gave Mel Ott's Giants a tumble but they have been a factor in the race through the early days despite a glaring pitching weakness.

LOSE KENNEDY

Mort Cooper failed in spectacular fashion yesterday against the Pirates, being clubbed for eight hits in 2-2-3 innings of his Giants' debut. The Giants suffered another blow in a serious injury to lefty Monty Kennedy, hit in the head by a line drive. A linear fracture of the skull will keep him out at least three weeks.

Brooklyn swept the entire three-game set from the Chicago Cubs, elbowing into third place, on a 5 to 1 success against Johnny Schmitz. Ralph Brancaccio posted his eighth victory.

Those amazing Philadelphia A's knocked over Detroit, their fifth straight loss, 8 to 4, and advanced to within 2 1/2 games of the lead. Phil Marchildon's sixth victory was scored at the expense of Freddy Hutchinson.

Rudy York's two-run homer, capping a four-run Chicago explosion in the fifth inning, helped sink the Yanks into second place.

Washington eked out a 3 to 2 margin over Cleveland for Earl Wynn's eighth victory.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

LAUGH OF THE WEEK: Al Hardy, general manager of the B.C. Turf and Country Club, comes up with the statement the organization lost money last year operating racing at Lansdowne Park. He made the startling disclosure in announcing the turf club will no longer pay the fees for grooms. In previous seasons a groom has drawn $2 for each thoroughbred led to and from stable to paddock. It is quite possible the B.C. Turf and Country Club lost money if its initial capital investment is figured in but no one will ever believe the outfit dropped a plugged nickel on its season's operations.

BACK from a provincial amateur hockey meeting in Vancouver Ivan Temple states that any efforts on the part of Vancouver, New Westminster, and Nanaimo to promote the simon pure game will meet with little success until such time as Victoria has an arena and can support an amateur team. "Their hands are tied as they need a team in this city to complete the circuit and help alleviate the financial outlay," Temple said. During the meeting it was disclosed that the European countries of Sweden and Czechoslovakia have 18,000 and 37,000 registered hockey players, respectively. Canada at the present time has 48,755 registered players so it will not be long until there are more players in Europe than in the Dominion which is generally considered the number one developer of hockey talent in the world. Of the Canadian registrations 22,355 are with the Ontario Hockey Association. British Columbia has 1,060 registered players.

There is every indication that catcher Vic Mastro of the Victoria Athletics moved into action behind the plate too soon after suffering a shoulder dislocation. Those five stolen bases and three errors on Mastro in Wednesday night's game at Yakima tell the story. There is nothing wrong with the big fellow from a hitting viewpoint, and it was a wise move to place him in the outfield and take advantage of the added power he provides at the plate.

OF COURSE I am fully aware that such a shift will result in a bit of loud squawking on the part of the New York Yankees. But, after all, the major league club does not own the Athletics, as much as it would like to. All the Yanks have is a working agreement and operation of the team is completely under control of the local directors, business manager Reg Patterson and manager Ted Norbert. I know these Yankees like to say where their boys will play but by Mastro cannot handle the catching duties as well as Bill Anshe, then Anshe should be back of the plate. The efficiency of the ball club should never be lowered just to please the Yankees. Mastro played infield and outfield in his semi-pro days and it will not hurt him to make the switch until such time as his shoulder is completely healed.

Swamped in their last two league starts, Navy will attempt to get back on the winning van at the expense of the league-leading Eagles in tonight's senior ball game at Athletic Park at 7.

Bob Prior or Stan Davies will likely be Gar Taylor's hill choice with Worrell almost a certainty for the sailors.

Seventeen-year-old John McKay, playing his first game in senior company, turned the trick for Kerrisdale by drilling in a goal from right wing on a pass from Hap Smith.

Development Of Junior Stars Would Revive Tennis In Canada

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's Davis Cup squad probably will be glad to win a few sets against Australia's tournament-wise tennis stars when they clash in their North American zone matches here in August, but according to the experts there's a glimmer of hope on the tennis horizon for future years.

And these same experts believe the answer to a team that can go into Davis Cup play with an even chance lies in a well-organized campaign by the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association for the development of junior players.

A Dominion-wide survey by the Canadian Press asked former stars and provincial tennis officials how they thought the court game is being run in Canada and what could be done to give the game a much-needed shot-in-the-arm.

It all stemmed from a meeting of the Saskatchewan Lawn Tennis Association back in April when S.L.T.A. president A. J. Wickens of Moose Jaw called on Manitoba and Alberta tennis officials to join Saskatchewan in forming a prairie organization, free from "unfair eastern domination" of the Dominion body.

C.L.T.A.

He charged the parent "shameless" tactics and violation of its constitution in selection of ranking stars.

Of the former players and officials queried all agreed that development of junior players will have to be encouraged and that because of the short season in Canada, the C.L.T.A. should go all out to try to pay the fees of a half dozen or so of the Dominion's top netmen so they could compete in the winter tournaments down south.

They also agreed that a strong Dominion-wide association with all provincial bodies working together was needed to foster this movement, and that although the C.L.T.A. might have its weak points, the idea of breaking away from the parent body found little or no support.

Jo-Jo White Draws $50 Baseball Fine

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jo-Jo White, Seattle's playing manager, was fined $50 yesterday by Pacific Coast League president Clarence Rowland for using "profane, foul and abusive language" to umpire Gordon Ford. The incident occurred at Seattle during a game with Oakland last Saturday. White was protesting a strike called on outfielder Lou Novikoff.

Ben Hogan Opens Defence Of U.S. Pro Golf Crown

DETROIT (AP)—Defending champion Ben Hogan, hard-hitting, methodical little man, and Jimmy Demaret, top tournament money winner of the year, led 64 qualifiers into match play of the United States P.G.A. championship today.

These survivors of two days of heated qualifying rounds, started whacking away at each other in man-to-man struggles in the opening 18-hole round of match play.

The only Canadian in the tournament, Jules Huot of Montreal, did not qualify for match play. His 77-75-152 was three strokes higher than the qualifying maximum of 149.

Meanwhile Hogan, only automatic qualifier in the field, squared off today in his first match—against Toney Penna, pint-sized golfer from Cincinnati, who qualified with 72-74-146.

Demaret put together two fine sub-par rounds of 68-69-137 to pace the qualifying field at seven under par for the 36 holes. He drew Earl Martin of Inglewood, Calif., another 146 qualifier, in the opening round.

South Africa's Bobby Locke, only British Empire threat left in the field with Huot out, put a 69 which he said should "have been a 66" with his first day 70 for a 139. Locke meets Henry Ransom of Ravinia, Ill., today.

MARIGOLD WIN AGAIN

Marigold juniors added to their lead at the top of the Colwood and District Softball League last night by trouncing Sooke 25 to 2. The Marigold team is undefeated in league play.

Seals Regain Lead In Coast League Baseball Whirl

Eight big runs in the fifth inning "last night" boomed the San Francisco Seals back into the Pacific Coast League lead.

The barrage gave the Seals their third straight over the Sacramento Solons, 9 to 5, and a margin of one percentage point over Los Angeles Angels, who also moved up as Oakland dropped down on the Pacific Coast League teeter-totter.

Seal twirler Bob Joyce contributed two singles to the large frame, concocted entirely at the expense of Garth (Red) Mann.

The Angels edged San Diego for the third consecutive game, 1 to 0; Portland tripped the Oaks, 3 to 2, and tail-end Seattle came to life to halt Hollywood, 5 to 0.

Angel second baseman Lou Stringer clouted one over the left field fence for the only score against southpaw Tom Seals, the Padres' hard luck champion.

Four Oakland errors contributed to Charley Gassaway's downfall as the Beavers, who knocked the Acorns out of the lead a fortnight ago, did it all over again.

Wait Dubiel's slick four-hit job gave Seattle its first series win over the Stars. Dubiel walked none, fanned three and got solid support—including three double plays and a pair of fancy catches by centrefielder Johnny Rucker.

Solve Nuisance Fire Mystery

A. L. "Sandy" Irwin, operator of the Pacific Auto Wrecking Co. Ltd., 937 Yates Street, who can count a few more grey hairs and whose nervous system was tested for more than a week of being plagued by a series of minor nuisance fires on his premises, is back to normal today as a result of "solved" being written to the case.

While police would not divulge the name of the individual responsible, it is understood that as a result of a visit from representatives of the B.C. Fire Marshal's office to investigate the unusual blazes the situation was cleared up to the satisfaction of all.

Mr. Irwin and his employees were kept on the go almost continually on Friday the 13th, quelling 30 little fires that sprang up inside and outside the building. More occurred later.

While at first it was suspected that phosphorus was employed with coal oil, it has now been determined that only the oil was used.

Ever since the first mass breakout of the blazes, Mr. Irwin has been maintaining a night watch on his place.

200,000 Additional Members Enlisted To Combat Cancer

TORONTO—More than 200,000 new members were enrolled in the Canadian Cancer Society during its national campaign in April and May and $500,000 was contributed by Canadians to finance the society's work, reports President J. G. Stephenson from national headquarters in Toronto.

Results of the campaign, based on preliminary reports from provincial branches, indicate the membership drive in 1947 succeeded in enrolling more than twice as many new members as were obtained in the society's first national drive in April last year. In the matter of fund-raising, the 1947 campaign has rolled up totals well above the 1946 figures in all participating provinces except Ontario. (In Ontario, no specific fund-raising campaign was carried out this year, by special agreement.) Preliminary reports indicate that provincial membership and fund-raising quotas have been equalled or exceeded in Alberta,

Saskatchewan, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. In Nova Scotia the campaign was delayed until May, due to weather and road conditions, while in Quebec and Manitoba no special campaigns were held. Manitoba holds its annual campaign in October, while the Quebec branch this year is staging a continuous year-round membership drive.

Membership of the Canadian Cancer Society is expected to reach an all-time high of approximately 300,000 when campaign results are compiled fully, with more than 100 units functioning in cities and towns throughout Canada.

Funds raised in the 1947 campaign are sufficient to provide for an expanded education program by the society this year and to assist in financing a number of proposed public service projects designed to reduce cancer's toll of death and suffering in Canada.

Building permits have been issued to A. Y. Johnson to build a $5,000 lumber storage shed at Pleasant and John Streets; to W. M. Jamieson to build a five-room house at 1075 Joan Crescent, $6,700; to T. Peck to build a five-room house at 1775 Adanac Street, $5,400, and to John Carter to build four retail stores at 814-820 Fort Street, $9,600.

No Hardship For Older Employees As Streetcars Go

The changeover from streetcars to buses by the B.C. Electric Railway Company will not cause any undue hardship on streetcar conductors, company officials gave assurance today.

They stressed that during the past years, it has been a requirement of the motormen's union that all streetcar drivers be qualified to operate buses as well as streetcars.

There are still a few of the older men employed who are not qualified to take over buses, but in all instances they are within the pensionable age, or will be by the time the streetcars are off the streets.

"It must be remembered," one official said, "that the changeover will be gradual. This will give our personnel department ample opportunity to place all these men in other jobs where they can give efficient service and be happy. We do not intend to have any of our employees suffering because of the change."

2 Found Guilty Of Truck Theft

John Pollard and Arthur Rosenberg, two local young men, were pronounced guilty by Magistrate H. C. Hall this morning in city police court when they appeared for his decision after trial on a charge of theft of a $230 truck owned by C. J. Barnes, 1215 Langley Street, on May 22.

The magistrate remanded them until tomorrow for sentence. Sgt. Cecil Pearce and Constable Robert Coleman of the Saanich Police reported being in the neighborhood of Linwood Avenue shortly after midnight in the morning of May 22 and seeing the truck, which was making a lot of noise and was minus a muffler. They gave chase and when the truck turned into a driveway on Whitlow Street the patrol car spotlight was turned on it. The two in the vehicle were taken into custody after being questioned, the police officers stated.

George F. Gregor appeared for Rosenberg and Joseph for the other accused. They were charged jointly. Mr. Barnes testified in the witness box that the truck was his, that he had parked it in Diggon's parking lot, Langley Street, around midnight on May 21 and that the next morning it was missing. Both accused claimed excessive consumption of beer was responsible for their actions. They were not conscious of an act of stealing a truck, they testified.

Attractive Displays Feature Show At Crystal Garden

The lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden was the scene of much activity this morning as cars and trucks of flowers were being unloaded for the Victoria Horticultural Society's June show.

Exhibitors were arranging and rearranging their blooms, choosing the most perfect for the final showing. A magnificent display of begonias was being set up, and close by another of house plants.

Small tables were being covered with white cloths and special containers of artistically arranged roses were then set in place.

Beautifully arranged baskets and bowls line one wall, while graceful spikes of delphinium make a background across the end of ballroom. Central tables were a mass of color in roses, pyrethrum, Iceland poppies, panies and lilies were set in their respective classes.

A large general floral display was in the making on 3-tiered staging 12 feet long, while another exhibition arranged a display of cut flowers to cover 27 square feet. Vegetables had their classes and many were setting up the produce of the kitchen garden.

A fine commercial display of roses was being arranged. Another of astromeria, lilies, dwarf hybrid red hot pokers was partially set up. The ferns, begonias and sweet peas from Beacon Hill Park made a perfect centerpiece across the ballroom stage.

The show opened at 1 today and will continue at 10 tomorrow morning, finishing tomorrow night at 9.15 with the presentation of trophies and the flower auction.

S.P.C.A. Inspector Admits He Made Mistake In Court

Statement that he had made a mistake in evidence given at the police court, was made by John L. Weeks, inspector for the Victoria Branch of the S.P.C.A., during the course of his cross-examination in Supreme Court today, by H. W. Davey, K.C., counsel for Sydney Pickles, who is suing Mr. Weeks and six executive officers of the Victoria Branch of the S.P.C.A., for $10,000 for malicious prosecution.

The case which began Monday and which was expected to be concluded in two days, will go into next week.

R. D. Harvey, K.C., is counsel for the defendants.

Mr. Weeks said he could not actually see a sheep struggling on Mr. Pickles' Sunstead farm from the window of the house. "I did say it in police court but shouldn't have," said Mr. Weeks as he was queried on the charge of neglect of sheep which was laid against Mr. Pickles in February.

He said the continuity of his thought and remarks in police court were broken by constant interruptions from Mr. Davey. "In your cross-examination by me in police court you were not interrupted once," said Mr. Davey. "I am putting to you that you told a deliberate lie."

Mr. Weeks made a denial and said it was a mistake.

Charge Dismissed

A charge of breaking and entering McLeod-Lumsden, 865 Yates Street, and committing theft, laid against Alex Thomas, was dismissed in city police court by Magistrate H. C. Hall this morning.

Frank Brown, who was earlier committed for trial for the same offence, laid the information charging Thomas with the offence. When Brown appeared in the witness box this morning and told the court that from what he had heard, Thomas could not possibly have committed the break-in and returned an answer of "no" when city prosecutor C. L. Harrison asked him if he had any evidence against the accused, the prosecutor asked that the charge be dismissed. Magistrate Hall immediately consented.

Joseph McKenna appeared for the accused. Election was for summary trial and the plea one of not guilty.

Line-up of the Ex-R.A.F. cricket team for tomorrow's game against Incegs at Windsor Park, starting at 2.30, follows: Thorner, Jagger, Worley, Boyes, Neal, Davies, Scott, Holyhead, Joyce, Howe and Heppenstall.

Ask Holiday For Memorial Day

The Memorial Day Committee of Greater Victoria today wrote the Dominion government asking that a day for Memorial Day be chosen during the summer months and set aside as a national statutory holiday. Ald. W. L. Morgan, chairman, said following a meeting.

The day which has been observed in Greater Victoria during the past two years has been the Sunday closest to the anniversary of D-Day, June 6, and this was suggested as a possible date. Another suggested possible date was V-J Day, Aug. 15.

The question of using the D.V.A. cemetery at Esquimalt for burial of veterans as well as men who die on strength or in uniform is also being taken up with the Minister of Veterans Affairs at Ottawa.

Victorian To Sail In Swiftsure Race

Yachtsmen from the mainland and the United States will be in Victoria on June 28 to compete for the Swiftsure trophy, one of the years' big international races.

Dr. A. J. Stewart with his boat the Galateo is the only entry so far from Victoria who will participate in the race. There are three entries from Vancouver and over 15 from Seattle. Only entries approved by the Seattle Yacht Club race committee are allowed to participate in the race, and this approval is based on the entry's ability to "take it" under heavy weather conditions.

The course is from the breakwater here to the Swiftsure light-ship and returning to Port Townsend, a distance of approximately 160 miles. The Seattle yacht Atalania, carrying committee members, will patrol the course and will fire the finishing gun.

Will Hold No Trial In Mainland Death

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer today said he would not proceed against Warren James Edwards, Vancouver, who was originally charged with the murder of David Sherlock who died following a fight on Kitsilano Beach May 25.

Following the original charge against Edwards, a hearing was held and the magistrate bound Edwards over to take trial, if called upon, on a charge of manslaughter.

The Attorney-General said today, "The test is whether a jury of reasonable men, properly instructed, would be justified in convicting. I have gone into the evidence thoroughly and I am satisfied there would be no possibility of a conviction being obtained. Therefore I have decided not to proceed."

To Race Again

The "C" class race of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club for the Virtue Cup will be staged Sunday because entries failed to complete the course within the time limit when the race was held two weeks ago, according to W. H. Golby, vice commodore. Eight sailing ships are expected to participate in the race which will start at 9.30 a.m. for the Hein Bank buoy, a distance of approximately 30 miles. The time limit at the outer mark is 5 p.m.

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Onondaga will leave Monday for decommissioning at Seattle, Lieut. Frank Schmitz, the vessel's captain, said today. Schmitz said the Coast Guard plans to assign another cutter to the Columbia in the near future.

Alternate Offer Was Made For Transit System

E. C. Tucker, 2554 Shelbourne Street, was prepared to act for unnamed principals in negotiating a transportation franchise for the Greater Victoria area, in the event the B.C. Electric franchise did not pass, Mayor Percy George revealed today.

The letter was received in the City Hall Tuesday, and offered to enter into immediate negotiations on the transportation problem should the franchise be turned down.

Explanation of the delay in making the offer was that it had been impossible earlier to make arrangements for the necessary equipment.

New Constitution For District Lions

Lions of District 19 voted unanimous acceptance of a new constitution at the opening general session of the 26th annual district convention held this morning at Club Sirocco.

The new constitution will grant wider jurisdiction to district and zone officers and should bring about more co-operation between clubs.

The constitution requires all clubs to pay 12 cents per member each month to the district office. No club will be obliged to pay these dues until six months after formation. Reports of the district governor and the district secretary were heard at the meeting.

Jack Peddyord, district governor, pointed to the 25 clubs organized during the past year. "When we commenced our extension program we had no intention of establishing a record but our achievements have given us a record of which we are very proud," Mr. Peddyord said.

The district governor told the meeting his term of office had been the most pleasurable experience of his life. "I wish to thank you all for your splendid support and co-operation," he said.

Virgil A. Warren, district secretary, said: "This past year has been one of many activities and unusual accomplishments for Lions of District 19. We have established a record number of new clubs, and have increased the efficiency of all."

Probe Dismissals At Mainland Firm

James Thomson, deputy minister of labor, said today the labor department is investigating dismissals of employees of the National Biscuit Co., Vancouver, to see if it is the right of the employer to do so under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

The A.F. of L. Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International Union at the company have charged a lockout on the part of the company and appealed to the provincial labor department for protection under the I.C.A. Act.

Melvin J. Kemmis, secretary of the union, reported that 90 workers of the biscuit company had been discharged. "Dismissals started Tuesday morning and are continuing daily," he said.

"The company claims a shortage of materials. The union refuses to accept the excuse... it is now found that any senior employee who is a member of the union is discharged."

3 Places Entered; Nothing Missing

Three premises, two on Garbally Road and one on Bridge Street, all in the same vicinity, were entered overnight but nothing was reported missing, according to city police.

Juveniles are suspected. A rear window was utilized to gain entry to the Ramsay Bros. Foundry, and a back window was broken to enter the City Stores, both on Garbally. The Victoria Paving Company on Bridge Street was the other place entered, a set of three keys being found on the floor.

Detectives Maurice Wilkinson and Angus Munro and Sgt. Thos. Banister and Constable Nap Boucharde attended to investigate the break-ins.

Refugee Hungarians Have No Plan For Exile Government

BUDAPEST (AP)—A member of the Hungarian Parliament who has fled the country sent word to the Associated Press today that there is no plan to set up a Hungarian government in exile.

There had been speculation along these lines ever since Premier Ferenc Nagy was forced out of office in a Communist coup three weeks ago.

In a message to the A.P., Count Gyula Dessewffy, a former leader in the anti-Communist element of the Smallholders' Party who has sought refuge in Vienna, said his friends should be informed that his flight was not to be taken as a resignation from Parliament.

He and his wife fled in fear of Communist arrest.

The count was fired on by Communist demand last year from his post as editor of the Smallholders' Party newspaper Kis Ujsag on the ground that he was a reactionary. His wife, the society editor of the paper, was discharged at the same time.

BELIEVE IN FREEDOM
The friendship of the countless, who at one time was quite wealthy, with Americans was a constant source of irritation to the Communists, and in a letter to Americans here explaining the reasons for her flight and that of her husband, she said:

"I only ask of you not to think badly of us. Believe me, we are in no way running away or choosing the easy thing. Traditions, our firm belief in freedom as you understand it, and the hope and will to do more for our country than we possibly could do here (Budapest) under the circumstances, oblige us to burn our boats and, like in German times, once again wander about homeless in our quest for the freedom of our country."

Mississippi Seems Headed For New High

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—The mighty Mississippi River, fed by rampaging streams in Iowa and Missouri, appeared headed for record crests today as flood waters threatened communities and farmlands in the Hannibal area and in Quincy, Ill.

As hundreds remained homeless in Iowa, Missouri and Illinois from recent floods, other hundreds prepared to evacuate as the Mississippi continued to rise steadily and as flood waters, weakened levees, spread over thousands of acres of land.

With forecasts of new high marks today and tomorrow, workers fought desperately to save the long Sny levee in Pike County, Ill. The water was expected to top or near top this barrier protecting 120,000 acres of land in three counties and several small communities.

3 Paving Tenders

Three tenders on mainland paving contracts were opened at noon today by Acting Public Works Minister Herbert Anscomb.

For work in the Kamloops, Salmon Arm and Yale electoral districts, there was only one tender. It was from Dawson, Wade & Co. Ltd., at $81,882.

There were two tenders for paving work in the Lillooet district. They were from the Adanac Contracting Co. Ltd., $10,501, and George E. Baynes, $17,141.

Councillor A. C. Wurtele, acting reeve of Esquimalt, has written Mayor Percy George explaining the municipality's stand with regard to joint ownership of the juvenile foster home on Coalharbour Road. Esquimalt will pay only a per capita charge for its own juveniles detained there of $7.63 a day. A conference was held with Councillor Wurtele today, Mayor George said, and Ald. Margaret D. Christie, chairman of the juvenile home committee.

When little Junior is a grandpa, no doubt he will boast of the rugged old days when he had to help push a stalled school bus.

Power Vs. Salmon Issue In Hearings At Portland On Dam Proposals

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A multi-million dollar decision affecting the future of the entire United States Pacific Northwest will be at stake at a vital public hearing in Walla Walla, Wash., June 25.

The decision would place the Interior Department on record as ready to sacrifice, if necessary, the great Columbia River salmon run in favor of a gigantic dam construction program. The only concession to the fishing industry would be another decade of life for the salmon while attempts are made to transplant the fish to the lower Columbia tributaries.

The decision, which exists on paper now as a "preliminary recommendation" by the department, in effect would establish a 10-year moratorium on dam construction on the lower Columbia and Snake rivers and—for the first time—set up a master schedule for irrigation and power development in the region.

From opinions expressed at the Walla Walla meeting by rival interests of the northwest—the fishing industry vs. river navigation groups, irrigation and power advocates—the department will determine whether to make the decision a reality.

The day vs. fish controversy long has raged in the Pacific Northwest, with fishermen asserting the dams choke off the salmon runs to such an extent that eventually the chinook—the most-prized salmon in the world—would become as rare as a trumpeter swan.

Others, notably army engineers who build the dams, deny this. In fact the engineers see in building the big dams proposed for the lower Columbia and Snake rivers. They cite the Bonneville dam across the Columbia River, which passed a record run this spring, as proof that dams need not be barriers to salmon.

The Interior Department officials placed an arbitrary capitalized value on the fishing of $165,000,000, plus annual income of $10,000,000 or more, but added that "all concerned within the department are agreed" that benefits from the big dams would "considerably outweigh" the loss of fishing.

U.N. Palestine Committee Holds Sessions On Dead Sea Coast

Elephant, Lions Vie For Honors At Sello Bros.' Circus

Without any pretensions to being what press agents usually call "the greatest show on earth," Sello Bros.' Circus, which opened a three-day run at Victoria West Park Thursday has virtually everything a circus should have.

One feature that drew the approbation of the crowd Thursday was the fact that while there were three rings under the big top only one of them was in operation at a time. It enabled the circus fan to see everything there was to see and enabled the acts to follow each other in quick, smooth succession.

Ruth Roy and her lions were the main event and one of their principal attractions was the absence of that moth-eaten air circus lions so frequently carry with them. Three lithe, clean-limbed beasts they were that went through their paces under the urging of Miss Roy with just the right amount of snarling, paw-flicking opposition.

Capt. Vanderwald's baby lions, educated youngsters of eight months, and his three Mexican pumas drew a good response as did Jean Ellen's dog and pony act.

It was Big Burma, however, who brought the loudest response from the children; reputed to be the biggest (four tons) and the oldest (over 100) elephant on the continent, the old lady went through a repertoire of tricks like a two-year-old, balancing and dancing on a stool, sitting up to beg and finally draping her whole four tons on the prostrate, fragile form of her trainer.

Acrobats, trapeze artists and three clowns with a line of comedy refreshingly different from the stereotyped circus fun, round out a show that the children will love.

NEW YORK (AP)—The big battleship Washington, veteran of action in the Atlantic and the Pacific, was shepherded from the Brooklyn Navy Yard to Bayonne, N.J., today, and only the fortunes of war and peace could tell if it was her last voyage. The Washington will be decommissioned.

FLYING RINGS AROUND MOUNTAINS—This unusual picture of the snow-capped peaks of the Andes Mountains was taken by NEA correspondent Harry Leder, at 21,000 feet altitude on a flight from Lima to Cuzco, Peru. It was made through the air plug hole in the plane window which causes the circle around the peak.

TALL TAIL—Some idea of the size of the new giant B-36 bomber is given by figure of man standing on the horizontal tail section of the experimental craft. Built by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft, the latest army plane has a takeoff gross weight of 216,000 pounds, carries enough gas and oil to take a car around the world, and can drop a 45-ton bomb load.

EVERYBODY WORKS IN ASCHAFFENBERG—Every able-bodied citizen of Aschaffenberg, Germany, must work eight hours monthly cleaning up war damage. Registration cards, being checked, foil dodgers.

Lords Amend Transport Bill; Test With Government Coming

LONDON (CP)—Political circles buzzed with speculation today on whether a showdown between the Labor government and the Conservative-dominated House of Lords will take place in the next few weeks during debate on the transport nationalization bill or will be delayed until the 1950 general election is at hand.

These facts indicated that the uneasy peace of two years may be near breaking:

1. Government advisers have begun study of what the government can do if the Lords block the nationalization program by refusing to pass bills sent them. The Commons under present laws can push through legislation thus rejected, but only after a two-year delay.

2. Herbert Morrison, Lord President of the Council, whose statements often reflect cabinet decisions, said in a speech that the government will consider its "future constitutional policy" in accordance with the way in which the Lords deal with the transport bill. Their treatment of it so far has been harsh, with 10 amendments pushed through. Each amendment involved defeat for the 42 government peers, who form a small majority in a chamber where 800 may sit and who usually are outnumbered 2 to 1.

3. The Conservative Lords feel their position is stronger than usual because the transport bill debate was curtailed in the Commons by application of what is known as the "guillotine" procedure. The peers say it is their duty to give calm deliberation to the measure and improve it if possible even if considerable time is required.

Either the government or, the Lords can force the issue and informed sources said it was questionable whether either was ready at the moment, although tempers were rising.

Hollywood French Mayor Sets Good Example

NO MORE TYPE-CASTING FOR HAVOC

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD, (NEA) — The metamorphosis of Gladys Bumps, who was built for laughs and to display her legs, into an exotic siren named Tamara Baranoff, is Hollywood's best out-of-the-type-casting-rut story in a long time.

Gladys, who became Tamara, is June Havoc, sister of Gypsy Rose Lee.

Tamara Baranoff is her character name as the sexy queen of the Shanghai black market in a new George Raft movie, "Intrigue."

June has a simple explanation. "When I first came to Hollywood they photographed me like I look. I was a flop. Now they're photographing me so I look like someone else—and I'm terrific."

But it really wasn't so simple as that.

WAS ON BROADWAY

June clicked on Broadway as the dancer-comedienne Gladys Bumps in the musical hit, "Pal Joey." She came to Hollywood for the film version and got typed as a lah-de-dah dame with a pair of well-moulded legs and a hunk of chewing gum in her mouth.

From Gladys she was cast in other films as Flossie, as Trixie and as Cushions LeFay. Cushions LeFay, in the movie "No Time For Love," was the final insult. June fled, screaming back to New York.

"I wanted to act," she said, "but all Hollywood wanted me to do was show my legs and chew gum. Besides I was getting old (she's only 30 now). There's so little time to get anywhere in Hollywood. In New York, you've got forever."

So June went back to New York and started doing stage plays—"Dream Girl," a revival of "Sadie Thompson," "Dunning-an's Daughter," and others.

"My billing got bigger all the time," she laughed, "but the plays kept closing." But the critics liked her and finally hailed her as an actress of great promise.

June gives the New York newspaper boys the credit for her escape from Gladys Bumps.

"They not only helped me up the ladder of success, they held the ladder for me."

SHE LOVES HER LIFE

Thanks to those Broadway plays, June returned to Hollywood recently to play Madame Baranoff in the George Raft movie. She's following up this role with the part of a secretary in "Gentleman's Agreement."

June Havoc was quite a problem to the publicity boys when she first landed in Hollywood. The R-K-O publicity department called her into a staff meeting and told her to give out with her life story.

June told them the story. How she toured in vaudeville with her mother and sister, Gypsy, when she was three years old. About her first marriage at 13. How she ran away from her mother and became a professional dance marathon contestant. How she starved during the depression.

The boys listened, wide-eyed. But the next day a member of the publicity department took June aside and said:

"June—about that life story of yours. We're forgetting about it and writing you a new one. A nice, pleasant one."

June Havoc raised havoc. "You can't change my life," she screamed. "I've lived it and I love it."

June won the argument. Her life story wasn't censored.

Carmen Miranda, who ought to know, says she isn't expecting a visit from the stork. Al Jolson and Harry Akst have just written a follow-up to their "Anniversary Song." The new one is titled, "All My Love."

French Mayor Sets Good Example

Answering President Auriol's urgent appeal asking French farmers to deliver all surplus wheat without delay, the mayor of Yermenonville sets a good example to his townspeople as his wheat is loaded on a "wheat collection" cart. Rural police, like the one at left, beat drums to call farmers' attention to current grain drive to thwart a serious bread shortage during the next two months.

KEEPING HUSBANDS. HAPPY IS REALLY MONEY IN BANK FOR WIVES

If wives could be made to realize that keeping their husbands happy was money in their pockets, as well as peace and happiness in their homes, it would go a long way towards bringing about the domestic millennium. For, strangely enough, will many women marry for meal tickets, few of them seem to ever grasp the fact that whether their husbands feed them on pie, or keep them on a bread and water diet, depends upon how they are treated.

Perhaps it is because women are so sold on marriage as a sentimental proposition that they are so dumb about connecting the profit motive with it. They think that all that counts in marriage is love, and that as long as they are still faithful to their Toms, Dicks, or Harries, they don't have to wear themselves out making things pleasant for them.

So they nag and grouch and complain and make homes that are just about as cheerful and attractive as a penal institution is. There are plenty of husbands whose wives never speak to them except to find fault with them and to reproach them with something they have done or left undone. Plenty of wives who daily humiliate their husbands by calling the attention of even strangers to their failures. Plenty of wives who are grinding tyrants whose husbands live in terror of them.

KILLING OWN HAPPINESS

No feeling of affection, or compassion, or fair play, or even of common decency is ever going to stop a woman who is a nagger or bossy from nagging and bossing the man who is in her power; but it might make her change her tactics if she could be brought to see that in making her husband miserable she is killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

For happiness is a tonic more potent than any vitamin ever compounded in a laboratory, and peace of mind is the only sure preventive against nervous breakdown. Give a man these and he can stand a lot of work and strain without cracking.

Take these away from him. Let him come home at night to a wife who flays him alive with her tongue; to a house in which there is never a decent meal or a comfortable place to sit; to ill-reared children who howl and shriek and fight, and he dies before he is thirty.

cause he has nothing to live for. Doctors tell us that stomach ulcers so common among men, result often from an unhappy home life than any other cause.

RESPONSIBLE FOR FAILURE

Every woman is ambitious for her husband. She wants him to be successful, to be prominent, to make money, and when he doesn't make the grade, she feels that she has been defrauded, but often she is responsible for his failure. A man can only go as far as he thinks he can go, and his wife killed his faith in himself by her constant belittling of him and by pouring cold water on all of his plans.

It is the wives who believe in their husbands, who flatter them and praise them and build them up, instead of pulling them down, who ride in chaises.

And, little as wives realize it, there is a dollar-and-cents value to love. As long as a wife keeps her husband in love with her, he will work his fingers to the bone to give her things and achieving the goal she expects him to reach. Nothing pays a woman bigger dividends than being a good wife and making her husband happy. (Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

ROYAL THEATRE

From a conservative small town lawyer to a big city gigolo is a big step for any man, but it's one which actor John Littel takes in his stride in Paramount's "Easy Come, Easy Go," now at the Royal Theatre. Littel well known for his role of Henry Aldrich's attorney-father in the popular Paramount series, has the part in "Easy Come, Easy Go," of Tom Clancy, thin of hair but staunch in romantic spirit, who squires elderly ladies around the night spots.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Upholding its record as the studio which turns out the screen's finest musicals, M-G-M has concocted another delightful hit in "It Happened in Brooklyn," which enlists the diverse talents of such song-and-dance, romance-and-comedy headliners as Frank Sinatra, Kathryn Grayson, Peter Lawford and Jimmy Durante. The picture is currently at the Capitol Theatre.

Co-starring John Payne and June Haver, "Wake Up and Dream," Twentieth Century-Fox's long-awaited technicolor filmization of Robert Nathan's best-loved novel, "The Enchanted Voyage," opens today at the Dominion Theatre.

PLAZA THEATRE

Robert Newton, co-starring with James Mason in Carol Reed's "Odd Man Out," a Universal-International release now at the Plaza Theatre, has the reputation of being "a great actor who can play any part and make it live." He more than fulfills that description with his portrayal of Luky, the astonishing drink-crazed artist who insists on painting Mason to preserve on canvas "the look in the eyes of the dying man," a highlight of the British film.

Times Want Ads Are Mighty Midgets Packed With Need-Filling Power

A spectacular illustration of the power that may be packed into a small space is the atom bomb. Less spectacular, because it's so familiar to us all, is the power of a tiny TIMES Want Ad to reach out and touch the very persons needed for want-satisfaction. These mighty midgets, performing every day their miracles in need-filling, demonstrate over and over that size bears little relation to effectiveness.

In renting a room, for instance, a two-square inch Room for Rent Ad reaches folks all over our community, yet a big sign in your window fails to contact even all who pass your house. A Help Wanted Ad, telling your need in the fewest well-chosen words, pulls the eyes of job-seekers to itself because workers need what it offers and know where to look for it. So also a Lost, For Sale or To Buy Ad speaks to the ones, whom it is meant because Victoria people, with needs to have experienced the efficiency of Want Ads for their needs' fulfillment.

No matter what your purpose, or how quickly it must be accomplished, a TIMES Want Ad is ready to do the job surely and speedily. If there's a doubt in your mind about its power to fill the particular need you have at this moment, stop a second and reflect upon the number of similar needs that have been filled in this way for your fellow townsmen. Then join that increasing group who have found their buying, selling, hiring, renting or finding problems solved with minimum cost and maximum efficiency by Want Ads. Phone B 3131.
